GAS IS HINDERING WORK OF RESCUE

Known Death Toll Stands At 18—Fire Raging Deep In Mine

(International News Service)

EVERETTSVILLE, W. Va., May 3.—The toll in the Everetsville mine disaster reached 24 shortly afternoon today when six bodies were found far back in the main heading of mine number three of the New England Fuel and Transportation company.

The bodies were not removed from the heading which is about 5,000 feet back from the entrance of the mine.

EVERETTSVILLE, W. Va., May 3.—Tests of air in explosion-wrecked mine number three of the New England Fuel and Transportation Company here today showed the percentage of carbon monoxide gas so high as to cause United State Bureau of Mines officials to practically abandon all hope for the rescue alive of 76 miners still entombed.

The known death toll now stands 18. Seventy six others are believed to have perished behind a curtain of fire raging 4,000 feet back in the main heading.

Have 18 Bodies

Rescue crews early today came upon the body of an unidentified man just off the main heading. The body was not immediately removed from the mine. The death of Tom Daugherty, a tipple man succumbed in the Fairmont hospital swelled the toll to eighteen.

Gas is so prevalent throughout the mine, despite the efforts of the owners to avert explosions through the use of rock dust, that the mine officials fear further blasts momentarily. For this reason every precaution is being taken against igniting gas accumulations and consequently rescue work is progressing very slowly.

Governor Howard M. Gore, of West Virginia, is keeping in constant touch with the situation by long distance telephone, from Charleston, after visiting the bereaved families, the executive returned to the state capitol, but throughout the night he received reports regularly as to the progress of the rescuers.

To Probe Blast

Coroner Martin M. Moore, of Monongolia county has impaneled a jury to probe the cause of the blast, but the inquest will be delayed until all bodies have been recovered and the mines have been cleared.

City officials of Fairmont and Morgantown are cooperating in ar-

Joint Court House And City Building Favored By County Bar Members

Report On Conditions Is Presented By Former Judge William E. Porter

Thomas W. Dickey Is Elected President For Ensuing Year; Other Officers

At the annual meeting of the Lawrence County Bar Association held Monday afternoon at the courthouse, recommendation was made that a new courthouse and city building combined be erected. Nothing was said as to a site for the proposed building or the method of payment.

The recommendation was made following the report of a committee composed of Former Judge William E. Porter, Charles R. Davis, C. H. Aiken, Rufus McKinley and William J. Moffatt. This committee on building was appointed some time ago, with Former Judge Porter as chairman.

No Place for Records

Judge Porter read a lengthy report in which the need of a new courthouse and city building was stressed. It was pointed out that the old courthouse has become too small to house the different offices and records. For some time past officials have been at their wits' end to find sufficient room for the records, which are piling up every year. At present every available space has been occupied.

It was also pointed out that the county is now spending considerable money for the rent of offices outside of the courthouse. One for the judge, the district attorney and welfare department of the Lawrence county poor district.

City Building Obsolete

It was also contended that the Contributions tabulated up to 10 o'clock this morning totalled $5,384,929, and it was expected that under the stimulus of the president's latest appeal it would mount to nearly $6,000,000 before night.

Of the total tabulated, eastern states have contributed $3,382,223; mid-western states, $1,470,000 and Pacific states $424,306.

MOBILIZE FORCES FOR RELIEF WORK

Greatest Peace Time Mobilization Of Relief Forces Ever Known Is At Work

By LAWRENCE SULLIVAN

BATON ROUGE, La., May 3.—With residents evacuating at least 15 towns and villages in northeastern Louisiana, former Governor John M. Parker, federal relief dictator for the state, stated today that the still rising Mississippi waters threatened an area with a population of 172,000 in half a dozen parishes bordering the west bank of the river north of Baton Rouge.

"We had no loss of life in 1922, the worst flood we have ever known before", Parker said, in relief headquarters in the state house. "If the people will heed the warnings sent out from day to day, we will have no further loss of life this year."

Evacuation Orders

Flood waters which have been coursing through Arkansas for 10 days have passed over the Louisiana boundary, inundating large sections of East Carroll, West Carroll, Catahoula and Morehouse parishes. Concordia parish had been gradually flooding since the opening of the Glasscock break last Saturday. Evacuation orders have been issued for a score of towns in Avoyelles and St. Landry parishes, which are threatened by a break in the bayou De Glaize levee at Big Bend.

The greatest peace-time mobilization or relief forces the state ever has known is functioning today in an effort to avert further disaster.

"Our motto is to fight as long as possible to save the levee, and when we lose that fight to turn our energies to saving lives". Parker

COURT HOUSE, LONG ISLAND CITY, N. Y., May 3.—Lorraine Snyder, nine-year-old daughter of Mrs. Ruth Snyder, was called to the witness stand at 2:08 o'clock this afternoon, shortly after her mother had stepped off the stand after a gruelling cross-examination.

COURTHOUSE, LONG ISLAND CITY, N. Y., May 3.—Weary and defiant, but apparently unperturbed, Mrs. Ruth Brown Snyder resumed the witness stand again today for cross-examination in a desperate battle to save herself from the electric chair. The black-garbed blonde and her lover, Henry Judd Gray, are accused of beating her husband, Albert Snyder, to death on the morning of March 20 last. It was her third day on the stand.

With narrowed eyes she surveyed the antagonistic cross-examiner for the state, Charles W. Froessel, assistant district attorney, a portly, combative man, who almost shook

COUNTY QUOTA IS RAISED TO $20,000

Lawrence county's quota for the Mississippi valley relief fund now being raised by the American Red Cross has been doubled. Instead of $10,000 originally asked, this county is now being asked to contribute $20,000, and if this county is to be anywhere near the amount asked some intensive action will have to be taken.

Today the contributions amount to a little over $2,000. Among the larger contributions received are a check from Mr. and Mrs. A. Crawford Hoyt for $250, Mrs. Lucy Henderson, $100; Quota Club, $106; Welsh Congregational church, $50, and from the Harvey Martin class of the First Baptist church, $11.

Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover has just returned to Washington, D. C., from the flood stricken area of the Mississippi valley, and his report to President Coolidge is even worse than early reports indicated.

The American Red Cross has been called upon to raise double what was thought to be necessary. Floods have laid thousands of square miles of land desolate, thousands of families are living in refugee camps and conditions beggar description. The time for contributions is now and these should be forthcoming without any solicitation.

Probe Burning Of Large Barn

(International News Service)

NEWTON, Pa., May 3.—County fire officials today were investigating the mysterious burning of the large barn of Stefan Pfalzer near here late yesterday with an estimated loss of $30,000. Seventy-five tons of hay and 130 bushels of potatoes were destroyed by the fire.

The Pfalzer family were at work on the floor of the barn preparing the potatoes for planting when smoke was seen coming from the lower floor then the haymow burst into flames.

Ten barns have been mysteriously burned in Bucks county within the past three months.

Incendiary Fire Raging In Mine

All Of 250 Miners Employed In Shaft Escape Unhurt

(International News Service)

FAIRMONT, W. Va., May 3.—One of the worst mine fires on record in West Virginia was raging today in the Virginia and Pittsburgh Coal and Coke Co., mine at Kingmont near here. The official report of the state mine inspectors states that the fire was of incendiary origin.

Although 250 men normally are employed in the mine, all escaped unhurt. Only the fact that the mine is not of the gaseous type, prevented a serious explosion, Robert M. Lambie, chief state mine inspector, who is here to direct rescue work at the Everettsville mine, said.

Fire was discovered at two different air intakes, which could not have been caused by wiring or spontaneous combustion, the report to Lambie stated. Authorities are investigating.

Postpone Hearing In Violation Of Sunday "Blue Law"

Ten Pittsburgh Musicians Arrested For Taking Part In Concert

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 3.—The hearing of the ten musicians of the Pittsburgh Symphony Society, charged with violating the Sunday "Blue Law" of 1794 in giving a concert Sunday, April 24 stood postponed today until May 9, because of the admitted ignorance of Alderman Samuel McKinley in regard to legal controversy arising at the hearing before him last night.

After much wrangling by opposing attorneys which became personal and threatening at times the hearing was postponed.

Attorney William H. Pratt, counsel for the Sabbath Association of the Pittsburgh area, which brought about the proceedings requested adjournment when Attorney Frank B. Ingersoll, representing the defendants refused to permit him to call for cross-examination those named in the information.

Pratt asked for delay that he might file with Alderman McKinley a brief supporting his contention that he has a right to call the defendants to the stand.

Radio Board Has Troubles

Multitude Of Problems Confront Board Regulating Radio Broadcasting

16,000 AMATEURS SEEK LICENSES

BY ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 3.—In attacking the problem of allocating wave channels to amateurs and for government and commercial purposes the federal radio commission is running into virtually as congested a situation as presented itself in the job of unscrambling the broadcast jam, officials admitted today.

Among the major difficulties are:

1—Allocation of wave lengths to 16,000 amateurs, now operating sending stations, virtually all of whom are expected to seek new licenses.

2—International interference by American stations operating below 100 meters, some of which are broadcasting, and others transmitting code messages.

3—Increasing use of radio for business purposes, indicating that several thousand corporations and individuals will ask for commercial transmitting station licenses.

No fixed commercial policy has yet been enunciated, although in principle the commission is opposed to granting this type of license where wire lines are adequate. In exceptional cases the principle will be modified, however.

The international problem will be taken up at the world radio conference to be held in Washington in October, when, according to officials, an international allocation of wave lengths will be discussed.

Its May and the showers of April are done with, March is memory we like to forget, its May and the fields are bedecked out with emerald, gone are the snows and the chill days, but yet, May has a way of beguiling we mortals, beckons us on with a sun dazzled smile, takes off our coats and puts rose on our noses, takes us off guard with her whimsy and guile. Then like the hussy she is she forgets us, calls back the winter to take one more bow, makes us forget the bright skies and the sunshine, cools off our ardor for springtime, and how. National Guard Patrols Levees

Fourteen national guard units are patrolling the levees at threatened points, sending hourly reports of river conditions in general headquarters here. When danger is imminent at any point militia engineers in the office of Adjutant General L. A. Toombs, adjoining that of Governor Parker, plot the probable course of the overflow waters on contour maps. From these the evacuation warnings are shown.

The latest orders called for the exodus today from Bunkie, a town of 3,000, and Marksville, the parish seat of Avoyelles parish. Marksville had been selected as the site of one of the numerous Red Cross primary relief camps before a break in the Red river levee at Echo, Louisiana, turned the waters of that channel into the parish.

A minute man organization with 1,600 University of Louisiana students is at the command of Governor Parker for relief work in the newly stricken territory. Groups of students drilled for days in relief work are ready today to man some 200 flat-bottomed skiffs anchored to the coast guard cutter Saukee at the Baton Rouge river front. Each boat is equipped with emergency relief supplies, including drinking water and food, and two-man crews of students have already been assigned.

"When a levee breaks", Parker explained, "the crew is called from the campus. It has the number of the boat to which it is assigned. It can be off for the danger spot in less than 30 minutes."

Start Campaign In Slippery Rock

Presbyterian Congregation In Midst Of "Big Loyalty Campaign"

SLIPPERY ROCK, May 3.—The big "Loyalty Campaign" of the local Presbyterian church has started off with a bang. This campaign has as its purpose the awakening of a deeper spirituality throughout the church membership and congregation with the ultimate purpose of paying for the new church building, which is practically completed.

The campaign, which will continue until May 25, is being put on by the Board of National Missions of the Presbyterian church, is under the local direction of Professor Beatty Dimit, of the Normal School.

On Sunday the attendance at the Sunday school jumped from 186 to 245, an increase of almost exactly 33 per cent. The morning service was under the direction of Dr. Millar of Butler, who is pastor at large of the Butler Presbytery. His address was so powerful that the officials at once arranged for him to speak again next Sunday morning. The evening's service was in charge of the men of the church, with L. L. McCollough in charge. The address, strikingly practical one right out of the experience of a long-time church treasurer, was by William McKay, a banker from Greenville.

The church has been worshiping in the basement of the First National Bank since last August, when the additions and alterations of the old building began. Since November, when the pastor, Dr. George F. Bowden, was called to Parnassus, it has been without a pastor.

Throughout this week special services of prayer will be held every evening. The campaign has as its slogan, "Loyalty Lifts the Load."

Town Talk

J. C. White of Euclid avenue visited the News office today and said that a mistake had been made in a recent item concerning the location of some Indian marks to be found near this city. In order to reach the thicket where these are to be found upon the stones, one should travel west about two squares on Sheridan avenue from Wilmington avenue, then go down the first hill to the south, he says. Quite a large number of people have been in the vicinity to see the stones, he says.

Mrs. Edith Tate, of Franklin avenue, says that the report of the police concerning a recent auto accident in which her car figured, was incorrect. She did not have a collision with another car, but the car driven by L. M. Downing ran into her machine, on East Washington street, she says.

It appears to us that the Chamber of Commerce is overlooking a good bet in the matter of advertising New Castle. Why not arrange to have some kind of a light placed atop the cathedral, and keep it burning every night. The cathedral can be seen for miles around, and thousands of autoists driving through the district at night, would be attracted by the uniqueness of a light atop this high building. Anything that is singular enough to attract attention aids in advertising the city.

Years ago the phonograph was new, and the custom developed in many places of business of putting the horn out toward the street and turning the music into the street. The practice became a nuisance. The same thing is in the process of development with radio. Some radios are operated so incessantly that residents of the streets believe they have had more than enough.

New Castle school board meets tonight. It might be well to give some attention to speeding up plans for the erection of the new junior high school. Weather conditions are near that are just right for building. The longer the delay the more certain it is that building work will have to be carried on in bad weather.

L. S. Hoover, evangelist at Tionesta, Pa. will broadcast an all sacred program from Station WHBH, Oil City, Pa., on Sunday afternoon May 8 at 3:30 o'clock Eastern Standard Time. Many of Mr. Hoover's friends in New Castle will wish to tune in at this time, as Mr. Hoover is a former resident of the city and at one time was an operator on the Pennsylvania Railroad here.

However, a wrong road was taken in the vicinity of Steubenville, and this held up arrival of the orchestra.

ABANDON ALL HOPE OF RESCUE ALIVE OF TRAPPED MINERS

ranging for public funerals for miners who cannot be identified. Joint funerals will be held for the identified victims, with the exception of the men killed while at work on the tipple.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon for Virgil C. Straight, tippleman. The body of Harold I. Davis, another tippleman, was buried yesterday. Although these men were working outside the mouth, the force of the detonation, was so great as to fatally injure them and destroy a large portion of the tipple.

Cause Is Mystery

Cause of the explosion remains a mystery and likely never will be known, R. M. Lambie, chief of the West Virginia State Bureau of Mines declared. It is possible that an electric spark from trolley wires ignited an accumulation of gas or coal dust, or the blast may have been caused by a collision of mine cars which would suddenly compress the mine gas, thereby causing it to explode, mine experts say.

Lambie has ordered an area approximately 30 acres walled off to prevent oxygen from feeding the fire. As soon as this is accomplished rescue crews will be able to penetrate the region beyond the curtain of flames, but until then it is doubtful that the entombed men can be reached.

The trapped miners will have been imprisoned without food seventy two hours at three o'clock this afternoon. Mine experts say they could easily withstand the torture of entombment were it not for the presence of deadly gasses. The latter, it is feared, preclude any chance of their coming out alive now.

Company officials are in the mine mouth, including J. J. McSweeney of Baltimore, vice president of the New England Fuel and Transportation Company. G. A. Wood of Boston, another vice president and Henry S. Lyons, also vice president. P. N. Snyder, manager of the mining properties for the company came here today from Mt. Hope, W. Va., to assist the other officials in looking after bereaved families.

Everettsville, W. Va., May 3. — Reports that a member of a rescue team heard, what is believed might be possibly a signal from the entombed miners in Mine Number Three of the New England Fuel and Transportation Company today caused the rescue parties to redouble their efforts to reach them.

However mine experts say the faint tapping reported by the rescuers might have been from other source.

The experts discounted the belief that it was a signal from the entombed miners.

EVERETTSVILLE, W. Va., May 3.—Faint hope that forty to fifty of the entombed miners in the Federal No. 3 mine of the New England Fuel and Transportation Co., may have escaped the deadly gas which swept through the mine after the terrific explosion Saturday was revived here today when veteran miners suggested that a group might have taken refuge in a battriced airway about a mile and a half from the mine mouth.

The airway, known as north four, amply supplied with fresh air which it is believed would not be affected by gaseous fumes elsewhere in the mine, will hold forty or fifty men, miners said, and could easily have been reached by that number working nearby.

The airway is the lowest place in the mine, and probably is slowly filling with water, however, it is believed, due to the fact that the huge line pumps were stopped by the blast. If the airway can be reached by rescue crews within three or four days, it is felt that any men who might have taken refuge there may be rescued alive.

Everettsville was an armed camp today, companies of West Virginia National Guards having pitched camp near the mine, their mess kitchens serving meals to the mine rescue crews. Red Cross nurses were on hand ready to administer first aid to any miners who may be taken from the blast wrecked mine alive.

Mute evidence of the force of the blast which shook the mine Saturday presented itself to rescue crews when they came upon the crushed bodies of two horses used in the mine. The explosion pierced the side of a cliff nearly two miles from the pit mouth, clouds of smoke issuing from the hillside, witnesses said.

JOINT COURTHOUSE AND CITY BUILDING FAVORED BY COUNTY BARRISTERS

city building, in which city officials are housed, has become obsolete. It is poorly arranged and heated and ventilated, besides being inadequate.

The recommendation of the committee was in line with recommendations of grand juries for a number of years back. Nearly every grand jury has voiced the sentiment that a new courthouse should be erected. Owing to other big projects such as road-building, the county home and much-needed bridges, no definite action has ever been taken on the numerous recommendations of grand juries.

To Get Cost Estimates

The Bar Association feels that, owing to crowded conditions in the courthouse, the time has come when the erection of a new courthouse has become a vital problem. No estimates have been made as to the probable cost, but it is understood that this will be taken up later, together with a method for financing. Should the city unite with the county in a county-city building, it is probable that the old city building would be sold and the proceeds applied on the joint building. This would cut down materially the amount which the city would have to pay.

Officers Elected

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

President, Thomas W. Dickey.
Vice president, C. V. Ailey.
Secretary, J. Elder Bryan.
Treasurer, Clarence Patterson.
Trustees, Wylie McCaslin, James A. Chambers and Clyde Gibson.

The committee on rules recommended that no definite action be taken until the court rule bill passed by the last legislature is received, so that rules may be drawn in conformity with it.

The annual vacation was set to begin on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of July and to continue until the last Saturday of August.

Episcopal Diocesan Convention Opens In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, May 3.—The 143rd annual diocesan convention of the Protestant Episcopal church opened here today in Holy Trinity church with Bishop Garland presiding. More than 200 congregations in Philadelphia, Chester, Delaware, Montgomery and Bucks counties are represented at the convention by more than 800 delegates.

Among the important matters to come before the delegates is the question of representation of thousands of worshippers in the missions of the diocese in the convention.

The morning session was devoted to organizations, nominations for committee memberships and reports of special committees.

Great interest has been aroused in the annual address of Bishop Garland slated for this afternoon.

Snappy Saying

When a rich man dies some of his heirs just begin to live.

It was two in the morning and Ross made so much noise trying to locate the keyhole that his wife came down to the door.

"What's the matter?" she asked severely, well knowing when she gazed upon Ross who was leaning in an all too careless attitude against the railing.

"Found a fellow down on the porch tryin' t' get into the house", he explained glibly.

"Do you know who he was?"

"Sure—he was me."

A Gentle Hint

While wintering in Spain Jones lunched at the monastery of the Benedictines. After lunch he took out his cigar case.

"I don't suppose you object to smoking here?" he said to the white-robed monk attendant.

"Yes, sir, we do", was the prompt reply. "There's a law against smoking in the refectory."

"Then where", said our friend, "do all the cigar and cigarette stubs come from that I see about me?"

"From gentlemen who didn't ask about the law", the monk replied, mildly.

Careful!

It was in the days of little itinerant circuses. In a certain family the husband and wife each owned a traveling exhibit. One day they met in a country town, and the husband put up placards everywhere which read as follows: "Due to a chance meeting with my wife, my menagerie has been considerably increased".

MAY: MONTH OF BEAUTY

NOW comes May, one of the prettiest and most pleasant months of the year. The bitter cold of winter has gone, the sudden showers of April are past, the heat of summer has not yet come and vegetation prepares to spread with lavish hand its beauty all about us.

The origin of the name of most months is easy to trace. Not so May. It is generally agreed that it was named for Maia, the Roman goddess of spring, but there is also a theory that May is the abbreviated form of Majores and that the month was so called because it was held sacred to older men as June was dedicated to juniores or younger men.

Originally, May was the third month, but it became fifth when the Romans placed January and February at the beginning of the year. It always has had 31 days. Its special flower is the hawthorn and its gem the emerald.

Since earliest times the first of May has been marked by outdoor festivities and children have danced about a Maypole for hundreds of years.

Today many schools have May-day festivals in which gay costumes, pretty flowers and dancing complete a most colorful picture. May is marked by few important historical anniversaries, compared to other months, and few holidays.

DIMINISHING RETURNS

IT IS fair to assume that if any artist's voice would retain post-mortem commercial value it would be that of Caruso. His luscious tones captivated our day as none other. He was the strongest drawing card the Metropolitan ever had and the sale of his phonograph records was fabulous. The royalties to the widow in the year of his death amounted to $444,174. During the last years of his life they averaged $125,000 a year. Because of the attempt of the widow to obtain certain income tax reductions for depreciation, we learn that the royalty contract becomes less valuable rapidly year by year. It is not said whether this decrease is due to the falling off of sales or to the terms of the contract. Whichever it is, and it may be both, it is interesting to know that the contract which gave the heirs the large amount mentioned above in 1922 also gave them only $240,449 in 1926 and thus far in 1927, $25,191.

None the less it shows the diminishing commercial value of even so brilliant a contract as Caruso was able to make. Omitting the exceptional year of his death because of the unusual demand for his records, it is still obvious that within a few years of his death the demand for his records has fallen off almost a half. If the decline continues at the same ratio, the contract will be practically valueless in a decade. It appears, therefore, that even for the greatest singer of our time present publicity is needed to maintain the commercial value of his record. Of course, the beauty and art remain and will remain to delight lovers of music for many generations. The value to the race of such superb records lies in this, not in the profit to be made out of them. The stars of today, while few of them are anywhere near the magnitude of Caruso, are either outselling him in the record field or will soon do so. Their appeal is live and it is helped by their present activity and present steady advertising.

FIGHTING YOUR JOB

COL. B. A. FRANKLIN has some striking things to say about success. There is nothing especially new in what he says, but the way he puts his ideas is very effective. Whatever else there is to be done about remedying the faults in modern industry, it surely is true that there will always remain the old duty of doing the job as well as possible and getting all the joy out of it that is possible. Here are Col. Franklin's pithy pronouncements:

There are some things so evident in our relations to life that we don't see them clearly. We get too close to them.

Now one sure thing in life is that each of us has a job.

Most of us even pick the jobs we have, but many of us don't like them as well as we think we'd like some others.

We find ourselves in certain jobs because of a lack of definite knowledge of what we would like, because most often the one we'd like most must be worked up to, because of the necessity of earning a living, or because of circumstances that seemed to make our particular job the easiest to fall into.

And so, many of us, dissatisfied, fight our jobs, and work at them discontentedly.

But fighting your job is the poorest way to succeed.

In this day of intense competition any job, to be well done, requires all your enthusiasm, interest and ability.

If you fight it, dislike to do it, always in doing it think how fine it would be to have another, you double the difficulties of it. You add to the natural difficulties of the job the handicap of unwillingness.

Common sense teaches that the way to enjoy a job is to think about it, to try to discover ways to do it better and cheaper, to have in mind always the result rather than the job.

Then you'll get results. Somebody will note what you are accomplishing, and think of you in relation of another job higher up.

Quit fighting your job. Fight for it. Get results.

Then maybe you'll fall in love with your job. And love makes life sweet.—Strathmorean.

Hints and Dints

Big Bill Thompson has been mayor of Chicago for two weeks now, but as yet we haven't heard of the gunmen leaving to go to other cities.

One of the actresses who was sent to prison for taking part in a naughty play on Broadway says she got ideas for 10 other plays while in the hoosegow. But we'll bet most anything that they are not naughty sex plays.

A girl should dress in a way to conceal the defects of her figure, says a great authority on the subject, but we guess it would have to be a mighty small defect these days to be covered.

Setting for a beauty contest: a hick town, a surplus of girls, a rich bachelor.

Marriage is the only life sentence that gets commuted for bad behavior—that is, if the husband doesn't get murdered.

The girl who insists on having a big church wedding will probably want a packed courtroom to witness the divorce.

A man who claims to be an authority on the subject claims that raw oysters feel hurt when they are crushed between the teeth of the eater. If they have any life in them at the time it is natural that they would be hurt. We'd probably feel hurt if an alligator came along and took a bite out of us.

Mayor Dunlap has ordered the practice of putting handbills, posters and circulars in automobiles parked along the streets stopped. There is an ordinance against it and it is a cheap and almost worthless method of advertising. Ninety-nine per cent of the bills thus distributed find their way into the street and then into the sewers to clog them. We're with the mayor in his efforts to stop this practice.

The matter of flood control will be an important subject in the next Congress, but it is likely there will be a good many more floods before floods are eliminated, even though politically they may be eradicated.

Tomorrow is the big party the Shriners are throwing at the Cathedral. There will be big Shriners, little Shriners, fat Shriners and lean Shriners, and those who do not come under these classifications. But whatever kind you are, just so you are a Shriner, you want to be there. There will be big doings and the feed bag will be put on also.

Mrs. Charlie Chaplin has been awarded $1,500 a month alimony from the comedy king, and to him that's no laughing matter. What's the use of getting divorces if that alimony can't be kept up?

We note from a Chamber of Commerce record that drives for funds for extension work are taking place in a good many cities in the country. Some of these cities are said to be real up-to-the-minute ones like Detroit. But we suppose there are people in these cities, too, who are whispering around that the city "is slipping a little". Cities don't slip until the people in them let them slip and that is what has to be guarded against. An enthusiastic public spirit will help every city forge ahead and when you get that you can't slip.

This is the time of year that speed records give way to the early season golf records.

Women going to church in parts of Germany must have their necks and upper arms covered, their knees hidden and their dresses must not be transparent. We would judge from this order that there are too many women going to church in Germany and those in charge want the number reduced.

A writer on economics wants to know if "high wages will last?" Well, they won't last long with living expenses and the cost of automobiles and radios where they are.

These days the office can't seek the man because those who are seeking the office are blocking the way.

Met a man yesterday with a string tied around one of his little fingers.

"Trying to remember to buy something for your wife?" I asked.

"Nope."

"Afraid you'll forget an appointment with the dentist?"

"Nope."

"Then what the dickens are you trying to do?"

"I'm trying to remember not to cross the street against traffic. I've been bawled out by half a dozen cops half a dozen times a day for a week. And if this string fails to do the work, I guess I'll eventually land in Chief Dysart's hoosgow."

THE CLOCK

The clock of life is wound but once,
And no man has the power
To tell just when the hands will stop,
At late or early hour.
Now is the only time you own;
Live, love, toil with a will;
Place no faith in tomorrow, for
The clock may then be still.

A celebrated woman-hater, we know, says it's his guess that every time the stork leaves twins at a New Castle home, the birth control movement gets a new recruit.

A woman tells us that she was awakened and saw a burglar going through her husband's pockets. "But he didn't get anything," she adds, proudly. "I had lifted his roll myself."

WELL MATED

To hear some young women talk they would be very choosey in selecting a husband. When it comes to domestic ability, men are not so finnicky, if we men believe this paragraph from Judge: The ceremony over, the wife began to weep copiously. "What's the matter?" asked the new husband. "I—I never told you that I don't know how to cook," sobbed the bride. "Don't fret," said he, "I'll not have anything to cook. I'm an editor.

Plead not; solicit not; they only offer
Choice and occasion, which once being passed

A judge had held up a jail sentence pronounced upon a girl on the promise that she marry an honest man. Sounds reasonable, but suppose she reports back that she can't find such an animal?

Most people get up early in the morning because they have to. This is a nation of alarm clocks. The radio and the automobile are successful in keeping folks up most of the night, and about 99 per cent of the dear workers go to their duties in the morning with one eye open. Moreover, they think they're enjoying it. Funny, isn't it?

Men are more hospitable than women. And that's because the women have the dishes to wash afterward.

THAT'S RIGHT, CAL

Whether one traces his Americanism back three centuries to the Mayflower, or three years to the steerage, is not half so important as whether his Americanism of today is real and genuine. No matter by what various crafts we came here, we are all now in the same boat.—Calvin Coolidge.

Wife-beating has gone out of fashion. When a man undertakes that nowadays, he either gets arrested or shot. About the best poor fallen man can do in this day and age when he gets irate is to kick the cat.

High prices.

Losing teams.
Spinach, carrots and green cantaloupes.
Saxophones — and all the other nuisances of the times.

Lloyd George believes that China, after the present struggle, will take her place as a "new giant Japan." In Chiang Kai-Shek's wholesale execution of Communists Lloyd George sees Shek change from a wolf into a sheep dog, one friendly to Europeans, but putting Chinese rule first.

Lloyd George is one of the most intelligent living men, but in Chinese matters his opinion is only one guess among many.

To make a "giant Japan" out of China it would be necessary to have Japanese people and Japanese character. China lacks them. You might as well talk of making out of India's 300,000,000 a gaint fighting race.

Chinese are fighting against each other, as they have done at intervals for 5,000 years. They are as different from the Japanese as Irish are from Germans, or French from Dutch.

Chiang Kai-Shek may have his head cut off tomorrow. There is a great difference between a biting crab and a huge soft jellyfish that breaks as you lift it.

There is nothing to worry about as regards the city of New Orleans. Danger, loss and suffering are all in the low-lying flooded districts. A telegram from New Orleans states on highest authority:

"No break threatened at New Orleans. No river water in the city and won't be any. Poydras levee, ten miles below the city, has been opened, and river is rapidly widening the breach, which, in two days, should be five or six thousands feet wide, with three hundred thousand cubic feet of water a second finding its way to the gulf through it.

"This relief to the river will take care of the crest of the flood now on its way south. River at New Orleans now stands at lower gauge than in 1922."

That statement sent by Walter Parker, on the authority of J. P. Kemper, consulting engineer of the national flood prevention commission, is entirely reassuring as regards the permanent safety of New Orleans.

It is distressing to read of three hundred thousand cubic feet of water not only going to waste every second, but flooding farms, destroying houses, ruining thousands of families.

This government should not rest until the Mississippi flood problem is settled permanently, the great river made into a deep waterway from the Great Lakes and their cities to the gulf, and the precious waters and alluvial soil controlled and preserved to enrich this country.

London's anti-cruelty society starts a reasonable campaign against broiling lobsters alive. There are better ways of cooking them. It also alleges that oysters more highly organized than lobsters, when chewed alive, suffer more than lobsters, dropped in boiling water.

It took courage to eat the first oysters, and now we are asked to stop eating them, for pity's sake. Sensitive souls may find comfort in this question, "Do lobsters and oysters suffer any less in "natural" death, than when they die to oblige us". If not, since they must all die, some day, they might as well die usefully, building up a higher race.

A New York stock exchange seat sold last week for $195,000, five thousand more was offered for another seat. At $195,000, all the exchange seats are worth $214,500,000. They will be worth twice that, if we mind our business and keep prosperity.

In April many stock exchange records were broken. Excepting four April days, more than two million shares were dealt in each day, the month's total being 49,635,616 shares.

If $200,000 is more than you can afford for a seat, investigate the new exchange, just established in Seattle. Seats there, one day, will be worth more than New York seats today. Prices are just starting, in this country.

THE PRESIDENT'S VETO

President Coolidge did not disappoint the expectations of his friends and well-wishers when he vetoed the farm bill which the senate had passed.

Undoubtedly the senate has a right to pass any measure that it may deem suited to the welfare of the country.

Undoubtedly, also, if the president's views are not in accordance with that of the legislative body he has a right to register his protest in the shape of a veto. It is not only his right but it is his duty. It is no reflection upon the intelligence of the senate. It is only the registration of the difference of opinion between the legislature and the executive.

Conceivably both parties may be absolutely sincere and yet conceivably one of them may be mistaken. It is the duty to give the country the benefit of their difference of opinion.

The farm bill represents the activity of a considerable bloc of farmers and their representatives. This bloc is essential for the political support of a presidential candidate. It would be natural for the president to desire to placate it and thus secure its assistance.

His veto is tantamount to saying

The Fine Souls.

It is the little things which bring regret,
The happy thought which we have left unsaid.
To one who now is slumbering with the dead
Whom yesterday in life's full flush we met;
The friendly visit promised oft and yet
Neglected in the rush to forge ahead.
And now forever have those chances fled
And shame is ours that we could so forget.
The fine souls which we love so much are they
Who seem to think in time of all our needs,
They always gladly step across the way
To do for us their little kindly deeds.
They cheer the living in their troubled hours,
While we tomorrow send the dead our flowers.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

IT DID NOT WORK

This is the time of the year when the old bus looks particularly old. It is the time when the automobilist having attended the Winter Automobile Shows, and seen all the beautiful new models, believes that he will buy this or that car, and he attempts to turn in the old car upon the purchase price. Desiring to buy some car made by a concern other than the concern which made his old car, he finds that the agent is not particularly interested in his old car—does not want it at any price. Being urged by other members of the family, and being anxious to own the particular new car upon which his heart has been set he buys it with a hope of disposing of his old vehicle.

There was just such a person living in the city of Pittsburgh, in the month of March of this year, who was determined that he would have a Lincoln car. He got the Lincoln, but the agent absolutely refused to allow him a nickel on his old car. It was an old car, battered and worn, yet it had a "Blue Book" value, and a hopeful insurance company had during the past year, insured it against fire and theft in the lordly sum of four hundred dollars. Try as he could, the owner was unable to dispose of the car for any sum, and he conceived the idea that if it were left exposed in some well chosen spot in and about the city of Pittsburgh, some avaricious citizen to whom the letter of the law meant nothing, would appropriate it to his own use, and elude the law for sufficient time at least to enable the owner to collect the insurance. It was a fine idea, but thoroughly immoral.

Nevertheless, the Pittsburgher drove the car one fine morning in March over across the river into Allegheny, and believing that lower Lacock Street was a particularly good place to leave the car, he drove it up to the curb, carefully left the ignition key in its appointed place, and departed from that place. On the evening of the same day, well after sundown he went back to see what had happened. In the shadows of that particularly dark neighborhood, he found to his chagrin that the only visible thing on the street was the battered 'bus. He approached it, and as he drew alongside and stopped, he discerned a bulky mass seated in the front seat, who greeted him thusly:

"Is you de owner of dis yere 'bus?"

The Pittsburgher had to admit he was.

"Boss, you gives dis nigger great relief. I almos' give you up. You shorely was careless like to leave de key, and I'se been waitin' fer you dis entire evenin'."

It cost the Pittsburgher five dollars to reward the denizen of those parts for his honesty. And he still has the 'bus.

FIRES IN SCHOOLS

Twenty years ago the burning of a public school building, with loss of life among the pupils and teachers, was not a rare piece of news. In the last two decades schools have become much larger than ever before. All American children are going to school now, and most of them stay in school two or three years longer than they did 20 years ago. This is the chief reason why every American city has a difficult problem to deal with in housing its school pupils properly.

Recently, in Fall River, Massachusetts, a high school building burned, with a loss to the city of a million and a half dollars. Fortunately, the destruction occurred at night. Fall River folk had believed that their schools were of fireproof construction. But this building made such a roaring blaze that there was no possibility of saving it when the fire had been burning for a few minutes.

The incident is one to make residnts of every American city and town pause and think. Are your children housed in a fireproof building during school hours? Is the building fireproof in name only, or would there be plenty of time to get all children out in an orderly manner if a blaze started in a waste paper basket?

No building is fireproof, of course, if it has wooden stairs. No school building is fireproof if it has a slate roof laid upon wooden sheeting. I know of some very expensive high schools that are built that way.

As a matter of sad information for many, there is a tendency in most American cities to spend money very freely in construction of school buildings, without a very close check being kept by interested citizens upon how well the school structures are being built. I know of one city where nearly half the school plant was rebuilt in a period of five or six years. Nearly every building, though put up at great expense, developed dangerous cracks in the walls. The contractors naively explained that there were too many big sewers near the school buildings, and that therefore cracks in the walls could not be prevented.

But on the whole, school buildings are much safer now than they were before the terrible Collinswood school fire in Cleveland, a generation ago. That fire was an expensive object lesson, and for a time was heeded by school boards everywhere. Must there be another terrible example in our generation before all new schools are made absolutely fireproof as a matter of course?

Fall River narrowly escaped furnishing the example.

In Day's News

John L. Baird, the brilliant young Scottish genius is reported to have devised a means whereby fog will no longer be a menace and whereby in future war smoke screens will be useless, first leaped into fame a year or so ago by his invention of television. If women had taken a pride in having big feet instead of small, Mr. Baird might never have produced his famous television apparatus. He made this interesting confession recently when he revealed that shortly after the war he set up in business in Glasgow to sell a patent undersock he had invented. It was worn under the ordinary stocking to keep the feet warm and dry. But the hostility of the fashionable sex handicapped him, so he went off to Trinidad to start a jam factory. This was not a a success so he returned to Britain to perfect the television idea which had haunted him from youth.

Hunter's License Bill Is Muddled

Measure Affecting Non-Resident Hunters Likely To Be Vetoed

By WILLIAM B. BROWN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Pa., May 3.—While each resident hunter in the state will be compelled to pay seventy-five cents for his license, non-residents will escape an increase, according to indications today.

Bills to increase both license fees are now on the governor's desk. The one sponsored by Sen. R. S. Quigley, Clinton county, increasing the fee of the resident hunters went through with administration backing after having been defeated in both houses.

The intention of the game commission at the time was to increase the fee for non-resident hunters from $15.00 to $25.00. The measure sponsored by Rep. Albert B. Davidson for that purpose was so garbled by amendments in the senate committee on game that the governor has been asked to veto it by John Truman, executive secretary of the commission.

Efforts to construe the bill as it passed finally has resulted in nothing but contradictions in the offices of the commission. The senate committee struck out the provision for the increase to $25.00 leaving it at $15.00. Having done that the committee continued to insert amendments until no one about the commission is willing to be quoted as to just what the bill, in its present form, provides.

One of the amendments provides that the payment of $15.00 shall entitle the hold to a "non resident small game hunter's license tag." Another amendment provides that the holder of such a license may not kill elk, deer, bear or wild turkeys. One interpretation of the bill now is that for a non-resident to hunt all kinds of game it would be necessary to have two licenses. That was not the intention of the commission and it is expected that the governor will be compelled to veto it.

The Quigley bill was defeated in both houses but under pressure from administration sources was reconsidered and passed finally. The first time it was defeated in the senate by a 24 to 22 vote. On reconsideration five senators joined those supporting the bill. In the house 102 votes were cast against it on the first vote but upon being reconsidered the vote for it was 137 with none against.

that he would rather be right than president. Holding the views that he does, so radically different from that expressed by the senate bill, it is his duty to tell them, and do what he can to place them before the country in the shape of a veto.

His main objection seems to be that the bill makes the government do for the people, or certain sections of them, what the people ought to do for themselves.

There is no doubt but what the farmer needs is more co-operation, more unified action. But our theory of government is that such co-operative action must be taken by the people themselves.

The Russian theory of government, on the contrary, is that the government shall do for the people what the people will not do for themselves.

The people of Anglo-Saxon stock are very jealous of their liberty. They are slow to surrender to government the right to do those things which they have already done for themselves.

Government among English-speaking peoples goes from the bottom up and not from the top down.

Whatever makes for co-operation in the farming community is of value. There already exists many co-operative concerns, such as the fruit growers of California, and these ought to be encouraged. But for the government to step in and do that collective bargaining for the people which the people have shown themselves disinclined or incompetent to do for themselves, is pernicious and it is on the road to socialism.

We are not going the road which Russia has gone if Calvin Coolidge can help it.

Students Inspect Shenango Pottery

On Monday afternoon 16 students of the Ninth Grade of the North Street Junior High school enjoyed a trip to the Shenango Pottery under the direction of Elmer O. Delancy, teacher of Vocational Civics.

An entire inspection of the plant was made several officials of the company personally conducting the tour and explaining to the boys and girls all the different processes through which the dishes went before the finished product was turned out.

The class certainly appreciates the courtesy of the company officials in showing them this interesting work.

The students who made the trip are today giving a report to their class of the trip. They who went on the trip are:—Anna Alick, Anna Panella, William Porada, Mike Goldner, George McIntah, Vivian Cameron, Howard Gates, Hazel Matthews, Alma Fankhauser, Virginia Seger, Jessie Follen, John Wagner, Bob Shoaf, Harry Shannon, Sara Elder and John Stevenson.

Roberson-Smith Players Make Debut In Capitol

After several years of vaudeville and pictures, the Capitol Theatre returned to its first love Monday night, legitimate productions, when the Roberson-Smith Players opened what is hoped will be a long run of stock. The initial offering is "The Best People", Avery Hopwood's comedy-drama, and after seeing the debut of this group of players, one can feel perfectly safe in reserving the same seat every week.

"The Best People" is not a heavy piece of work. Just one of those likeable Hopwood comedy-dramas, based on a typical wealthy American family, in which the youngsters shake loose the reins of parental authority. In the hands of a poor company the play might easily have been boresome, but this unit of the Roberson-Smith Players is composed of a group of intelligent young men and women and their skillful handling of it convinced the first nighters who were present that at last New Castle has a company of actors who are really what they purport to be.

The two leads, Rhea Terry and Kenneth MacDonald demonstrated why they were selected to head the company. Miss Terry is a most personable young lady, and gifted withal while Mac as you are going to know him is the typical college athlete type. Their work was well done, though there will be plays in which the author takes better care of them.

The second leads Santos Ortega and Wilhelmina Grey had parts which permitted a wide latitude of acting and both of them took splendid advantage of it. Of course you know that Wilhelmina Grey is a New Castle girl, formerly Miss Wilhelmina Nothdurft and she must have loved the way her fellow-townsmen received her. Flowers from the Dramatics Class of the Senior High School, flowers from a number of women's clubs, and plenty of appreciation from everybody.

Her playmate in "The Best People" is Miss Grace Walsh, very blonde and very winsome. The mother part was taken by Miss Florence Cornell who has a contralto voice that surely must have been intended for the concert stage. You'll like her voice and you'll like her.

George L. Fogle, a New Castle man by marriage is the director of the company and had the part of Lord Rockmere. The cast showed his efforts as a director and his own work spoke for itself. Al Smith, the wayward boy of the family is also the Smith of the company and a few weeks from now you'll be calling him Al. Merry Mable McCormack and Howard Lane had small parts in the cast but through their work they made them stand out as really important. And then "Uncle George", whose name is Eugene Larue. A crusty old batchelor, but a genuine trouper.

New Castle is going to like the Roberson-Smith Players. First of all they are splendid people. Intelligent, refined and capable, they seem in a fair way to give New Castle the better kind of stock plays, and New Castle always did like good plays. Next week they will offer, "Laff That Off".

Union Baptist

Interest is increasing each evening in the special evangelistic services that are being held in the Union Baptist church, Grant street. The evangelist Rev. Hall, D. D. is preaching with much power and have been a number of additions to the church.

May 1 Finds Corn Borer Regulations Well Carried Out

MERCER, Pa., May 3. — The first of May finds Mercer County with 90 per cent as a conservative estimate of the corn stubble either plowed under, pulled and burned or otherwise destroyed in conformity with the rulings of the United States Department of Agriculture for eradication of the corn borer.

Such is the statement of Meade Davidson of Worth township who is in charge of the regulatory measures sent out by the department and has six inspectors in the county to back it up.

The work was to be all finished by the date of May 1st, the department at Washington urged.

Davidson says that except in cases where the farmer does not have the help or in fields that are low and have been so wet that it was impossible to plow them all the stubble has been accounted for. In the towns garden growers have proven their loyalty by getting rid of the corn stubble.

The remainder of the corn land will be taken care of just as fast as weather conditions will permit. Davidson and his force will remain on the job to see that this final clean-up on the program is taken care of.

Debaters Given National Honor

Westminster Lads Are Recognized; Plans Being Made For Commencement

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., May 3. —Wilson Botsford of Pittsburgh, Wallace Maxwell of New Wilmington, James Chambers of New Castle, Clyde Myers of New Castle, Thomas Mansell of New Wilmington, Howard Hamer of Erie, and Samuel Colman of Philadelphia, members of the varsity debate squad at Westminster College during the past season, have been honored by membership in Tau Kappa Alpha, the national debating fraternity of the college.

Tau Kappa Alpha, since its installation at Westminster, has been very active in promoting forensic activities. It is under the direction of this organization that the annual freshman-sophomore debate is held.

New officers for the fraternity are to be elected soon. Brown Bricker of Braddock, is retiring president.

Commencement Plans

Judging from the contents of a personal chat by President W. Charles Wallace of Westminster College with the members of the senior class, Commencement Week plans are practically complete and will be ready for announcement in the near future. Westminster lacks an "Old Main," due to the fire on January 24, but this year's commencement, marking the seventy-fifth year in the history of the school, will be far more notable than those of the past.

Friday evening, May 13, is the time and date set for the annual senior reception at the Hillside dormitory. The affair will be formal with the seniors receiving members of the three lower classes.

The seniors have already started rehearsing for the annual "sing" which will be given May 27, the evening before May Day.

Corn Borer Attacks Many Other Plants

Greatest Damage Of All, However, Is Done To American Maize

While corn is the preferred host of the European corn borer in America and sustains more serious injury than any other plant attacked, a number of field crops, and weeds, and flowering plants are also susceptible. No severe economic injury to plants other than corn has occurred, and many of them serve primarily as shelter plants, rather than as true food plants; but the proximity of any of the more susceptible is a menace to corn in areas under control, since adult moths breeding in them may deposit their eggs on nearby corn.

In New England a total of 224 species has been recorded as hosts of the corn borer. Not more than thirty-eight of these are known to constitute real food plants for the insect. Among the plants subjected to quarantine in the East by the Federal Horticultural Board, either because of suceptibility or the likelihood of their proving carriers, are: Corn and broomcorn, including all parts of the stalk, all sorghum. Sudan grass, celery, green beans in the pod, beets with top, rhubarb, chrysanthemum, aster, cosmos, zinnia, hollyhock, gladiolus, dahlia and oat and rye straw. In the single-generation areas of the West the quarantine applies to corn, broomcorn and all sorghum and Sudan grass, except the grains of the same when properly cleaned.

Following the adoption of control measures and the enforcement of these quarantine regulations in New England during the past three years, there has been a noteworthy reduction in infestation of most of the vegetables and flowers on the foregoing list.

Your nearest Vigoro dealer can tell you more about this wonderful plantfood—what it will do for lawns, flowers, shrubbery and trees, too. Full directions for applying, in "The Home Beautiful" booklet in every bag.

Mahoning Valley Notes

BOX SOCIAL.

The Social committee of the Mahoning Valley Grange announce a Box social at the Grange hall on Friday evening May 6. It is hoped a large crowd will be present and a good social time enjoyed.

MEETING CHANGED.

The meetings scheduled for Prof. R. G. Bressler in Lawrence county this week are postponed until next week. The date for Mahoning Valley has been arranged for their regular meeting night Tuesday evening May 10 with the New Bedford Grange joining with M. V. in this opportunity to secure Mrs. Bressler.

The program previously arranged for the lecture hour at M. V. has been postponed to a future date and the time will be devoted to the address of the evening.

Mr. Bressler is the assistant secretary of agriculture in Pennsylvania, formerly the vice dean of agriculture at State college and an active and enthusiastic Grange member. An interesting evening is anticipated as Mr. Bressler is a very able and entertaining speaker.

It is hoped that this meeting will be well attended both by members of the granges and also by the people of the community who are invited to come for the address of the evening.

TREES PLANTED.

The discussion of trees at the last meeting led to the suggestion that the idea of planting trees on the Grange and adjoining school grounds take definite form and be started this spring. Saturday afternoon was the date selected. A number of interested members were present and planted trees they secured from home wood lots. H. R. McCulloch extension representative for Lawrence county assisted with the work. A picnic dinner was served in the evening by the ladies.

SCHOOL CLOSES.

The Walters school closed on Monday May 2 after a successful term with Miss Helen Shields of New Bedford as teacher. The annual picnic dinner for pupils and parents will be held on Friday.

PROGRAM AT LAST MEETING.

The following program was rendered ath the last meeting of the Grange:

Arbor Day Quotations—Juvenile Boys.

Vocal Solo—Wylda Simon.

Roll Call—Your Favorite Tree.

Talk — "Constitutional Amendments" or "A Step Forward in Government"—Tad Shields of the New Bedford Grange.

School Safety Week Is Being Observed Here

Railroad Men Visit Schools To Impress Lessons Of Safety

This week is "School Safety Week", as sponsored by the safety section of the American Railways Association. Last week W. A. Stone, freight agent, and George H. Hamilton, passenger agent of the P. & L. E. railroad in New Castle, visited the schools of the city in the interest of this Safety Week.

Last year 90,000 persons were killed and more than 1,500,000 injured in the United States as a result of accidents of all kinds. One-fourth of these were children under 15 years of age.

While only a part of these accidents occur through railroad operation, yet the railroads want to do all they can to reduce accidents to the lowest possible number. Most of the railroad companies in the past few years by concerted effort have reduced death and injuries to railroad employes to less than half of what they were some years ago.

Although there has ben a reduction in injuries and deaths to employes of the railroad companies, there has been an increase in accidents to travelers on the highways at railroad crossings. Thus the companies, knowing that by education they have been able to reduce their own accidents, hope by a process of education to reduce that number to careless crossing crossers.

"Cross Crossings Cautiously" is being made the slogan. Deaths to the number of 2,492 and 6,991 injuries were due to crossing accidents last year. The majority of these accidents occur in daylight, where there is a clear view of the train and at crossings with which the driver is familiar. There is just one person who can prevent crossing accidents—the driver of the automobile.

Some of the rules for safety on crossings are given here:

1. Learn to recognize highway railway crossings on approaching them.

2. Approach all crossings with car under control and be prepared to stop if necessary.

3. Look in both directions and listen to know whether a train is approaching or not.

4. Do not attempt to pass over the track until you know the track is clear.

5. Recognize your responsibility for those in your car.

The railroads are thus bringing before the minds of the school children while they are young and when they grow up they will not forget the lessons learned.

FOR Acid Stomach PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

Better Than Soda

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Try a 25c Bottle

Insist upon "Phillips". Twenty-five cent and fifty-cent bottles, any drug store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor, Charles H. Phillips, since 1875.

Perfect Record For Past 6 Years

Mildred Campbell, student in the ninth grade of the North Street Junior high school has attended school now for six years without being tardy or missing a day.

This is quite a record of which anyone should feel justly proud. Miss Helena M. Burckart is her report teacher. Part of this record was made while she attended the Highland school.

Dawes May Not Be On Ticket If Coolidge Is Renominated

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—"Anybody but Dawes" will be the next Republican candidate for vice president if Calvin Coolidge is No. 1 on the ticket.

That's pretty well understood in Washington.

President Coolidge hasn't the reputation of a vindictive statesman. Yet folks who are very close to him do say that, in the person of Charles G., he comes mighty near to having a pet aversion.

It's well known that he didn't pick Dawes as his running mate in the first place. "Hell 'n' Maria" was "wished" onto him.

He made the best of it that time—probably not then having any personal objection to the Chicagoan—but there are plenty of people who believe he'd scratch his own ticket if a second convention were to put such a thing across on him.

There's a suspicion that the White House thought Dawes tried for too much limelight even during the 1924 campaign.

At any rate, it was noticeable that the chief executive didn't invite the vice president to "sit in" as a member of his cabinet, the way President Harding had invited him to "sit in" when he was vice president. He said it might prove an embarrassing precedent for some future president, so he dropped it.

However sound his reasoning may have been, there were subsequent indications that Dawes didn't like it.

All the scoring thereafter and thus far has been in Dawes' favor.

Firstly, instead of effacing himself, like a well regulated vice president, he has consistently made himself just as conspicuous as possible.

While taking a nap, he missed a chance to break a senate tie vote on the president's appointment of Charles B. Warren as his attorney general. Warren consequently missed out on the job, a terrible slap in the fact for the president—attributable to Dawes, whether or not he meant it.

Then the vice president associated himself in the most noticeable way with the advocates of a brand of farm relief Cal was fighting.

More recently he put the seal of his approval on the Reed campaign slush fund investigating committee, which the Coolidge following was doing its utmost to chloroform.

In short, every chance Vice President Dawes has had to adopt an anti-Coolidge attitude which wasn't an out-and-out anti-Republican attitude, Mr. Dawes has adopted it.

He has also as good as proclaimed his ambition to move into the White House before the Coolidges are ready to move out.

It isn't to be expected that the president should look forward to four more years in the same company if he can possibly prevent it—and if he's renominated, he'll have more to say about it the next time than he did the last one.

Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon is a good deal talked of for the Dawes berth. He's been prominently identified with farm relief, which is in his favor if he can modify his farm relief views to match the president's as doubtless he can—for the vice presidency.

Gov. John Hammill of Iowa is mentioned, too, as a good Corn Belter.

Assistant Secretary of War Hanford MacNider, former head of the American Legion and also an Iowan, has considerable backing.

However, this isn't so much a question of who gets the nomination as of who doesn't. A number of candidates will do in the former capacity. One single definite selection has been made, so far as the president's concerned, for the latter.

BROTHERS GATHER IN JAIL REUNION

WAYNESBURG, Pa., May 3. — One of the most unusual family reunions ever held in Greene county came off yesterday when four brothers fell into the hands of the law on various charges and were sent to jail at the same time.

The brothers are Denver Paris Brady, 20-year-old globe trotter who was arrested for "hi-jacking" a poker game at Nemacolin; French Brady, charged with assisting his brother in annexing the stakes; Lawrence Brady, arrested at Carmichaels on a charge of driving an automobile while he was intoxicated; James Brady, said to be wanted on an old liquor charge and who walked into the office of a justice of the peace and gave himself up during the preliminary hearing of his brother.

The brothers are all talented musically and yesterday entertained other prisoners singing several selections as a quartet.

Pretty pastel shades are the order for Spring! Do your own tinting of lingerie and dainty dresses—but be sure to use real dyes. Get the actual dye powder at a drug-store for fifteen cents, and dilute it yourself.

Cold water tinting is easy, and results are perfect when you start with dyes. Dye tints are true; they don't streak. They give the same tints fabrics have when bought. And if you want the tint to stay, just use boiling water instead of cold.

Diamond dyes do regular dyeing of all materials just as successfully as they tint, too. Silks or woolens; linen; cotton goods. Your druggist has color cards and simple directions. INSURANCE CONCERN AT MEADVILLE GIVEN COURT ORDER TO QUIT

HARRISBURG, Pa., May 3. — The Ministers' Protective Society, with headquarters in Meadville, was dissolved today by an order of the Dauphin county court, and State Insurance Commissioner Matthew H. Taggert was directed to liquidate the affairs of the society.

Action against the society, on the ground that it was insolvent by more than $600,000 on an actuarial basis, was asked of the court last week by the insurance department.

The society, incorporated in 1920 and having 7,000 members, wrote health, accident and annuity policies.

Townships Plan Ash And Slag Roads

MERCER, Pa., May 3. — Road supervisors in Mercer county who are being instructed by assistant district engineer R. B. Fleming of New Castle in the state requirements for securing aid for the building of slag and ash roads in their respective townships are being visited as fast as it is possible for that official to make the rounds.

A number of the townships have been already visited and the road supervisors talked too.

County Commissioner F. P. Miner who has charge of all the roads construction program in the county accompanied the engineer on his visits. Much time is saved by the builders in knowing the requirements of the state in this connection.

State, county and township share in this road building program.

Traffic Lights On Public Square Aid

Congested Conditions Are Being Lessened As Drivers Get Accustomed To Situation

Observations as to the workings of the new traffic lights on the public square show that traffic conditions are being improved. As the auto drivers become more acquainted with the conditions, the situation will continue to show improvement, it is believed.

The matter of left hand turns is being studied at the present time by traffic officials of the city. While there is some little difficulty over this matter, it is not likely that the left hand turns will be abolished. The lights require caution on the part of all drivers in the square, and turns are being made without much difficulty as drivers more and more become accustomed to the conditions.

Certain it is that the lights have improved conditions on the square. Before they were erected, every driver had to look out for himself, no matter what direction he wanted to go. Now the driver knows that, he is at least in the right of way when going with the green light signal.

With a little longer time for the situation to adjust itself, it is certain that a great improvement in the elimination of former congestion on the public square will be seen.

Beau Geste Comes For Three Days

Large Crowds Are Indicated For Cathedral Attraction This Week

Previous to the final selection of the Arizona desert as the locale for Paramount's "Beau Geste" coming to the Scottish Rite Auditorium, New Castle, for three days starting Thursday night, May 5, it had tentatively been planned to film the picture on the actual scene of the story—the Sahara Desert in Algeria.

A location man had been dispatched to Africa to take "still" scenes and to obtain permission from the French Government to erect a fort in the desert. Things moved smoothly for a time until Abdul Krimmin had his war with Spain, crossed into French territory and precipitated the wrath of the French Government. From that time on reports were so discouraging it was evident that no motion pictures could be taken there until after the cessation of hostilities.

When this information was received, orders were given to establish a location on the Arizona desert. A mile and a half of plank road was built across the sand dunes of Arizona along the Mexican border to enable Paramount to build a camp for 2,000 men in Barren Valley. Here are found the only sand dunes that exactly duplicate those of the Sahara.

Every person connected with the picture lived in this camp, 30 miles from the nearest habitation, more than three months until the exterior scenes were completed.

There will be matinees on Friday and Saturday, the final showing being Saturday night. The advance sale of seats is enormous and late patrons are apt to be disappointed.

Great MEN-ACE!

To Millions!

YOU can never tell when system poisoning—that dangerous and insidious malady doctors call Toxemia—is going to get you within its grasp.

It constantly hovers over millions of men, women and children whose bowels do not act regularly, like some greedy vulture over a lingering victim of the desert.

Taking ordinary laxatives when constipated does not eliminate the poisonous toxins that cling to the lining of the intestines. It requires something more than a laxative to protect you from the great menace of Toxemia, the underlying cause of so much sickness, disease and suffering.

Few people recognize its symptoms. A simple headache, attack of indigestion, a sleepless night, dizzy spells, a pain or backache—and forty other symptoms—may mean the approaching dangerous vulture—system poisoning (Toxemia).

Don't risk your health by neglect! Do as thousands of wise people are now doing. Take PARTOLA, that pleasant, system cleanser which is both an internal antiseptic and laxative.

Two Verdicts In Automobile Cases

Agreements Are Reached And Court Directs Jury To Bring Verdicts

Verdicts by agreement were taken in two automobile damage cases before Judge Hildebrand this morning.

In the case of Henry Miglirato, by his father, Vincent Miglirato, against A. Edgar Westerfield, a verdict of $10 was rendered as to Henry and $400.25 as to Vincent. The case was one in which the boy was walking with several others on the Frisco-Ellwood City road. It was claimed that Westerfield drove around a curve at a high rate of speed, swerved from his own side of the road to the other side and struck the boy, who was quite painfully injured.

In the case of Russell Lewis Hayberger by his father, Horace Hayberger against Robert H. Thompson, a verdict in favor of the son was rendered for $10 and $490 for the father. The accident happened on West North street. Young Hayberger, aged 9, was sled-riding down Sankey street, when he ran into the Thompson car, which was being driven by Jack Thompson, a son of the defendant. It was claimed that the automobile was being carelessly operated.

Motorist Buried In Mud By Wreck; Nearly Smothers

(International News Service)

EBENSBURG, Pa., May 3.—William Gavala, 25, of Nanty-Glo, near here, was recovering today from his narrow escape of being smothered to death late yesterday. Gavala's automobile overturned on the Ebensburg-Carrolltown highway late yesterday burying him so deep under the machine in the mud that he was almost smothered. Passing motorists extricated him in time.

The hand that rocks the cradle now is accompanied by a voice that says: "Lie still, Fido darling".

It tastes so good so rich and smooth and the tender bran is so valuable

Most little children, doctors say, should have a certain amount of tender roughage—and the bran covering of the oat is especially good for them because it is so tender.

That is why Mother's Oats has the approval of child health specialists who urge the importance of the natural whole grains. Vitamins and minerals known to be necessary for growth are liberally supplied by a bowl of Mother's Oats and milk—and an abundance of the tissue-forming protein of which children often fail to get enough.

Let your growing children have this healthful growth food often. See how they love its rich whole-grain flavor—see how they appreciate its extra smoothness that comes from the fifty years of experience of its careful millers.

Announce Change In Schedule For Paying Light Bills

Pennsylvania Power Company Divides District Into Sections

To overcome the serious inconvenience to which its customers have been subjected each month in the paying of all bills for electric service at the same time, the Pennsylvania Power Company has announced the division of the city into three districts, each of which will have its own period for the payment of bills. Announcement of the change is contained in letters sent by District Manager L. B. Round to all customers in the city and rural districts.

All the users of electric service are acquainted with the congested condition of the electric company's office on the closing days of each discount period and of the long waiting to pay bills that has resulted, sometimes requiring the standing in line for a long time outside the office before it is possible to get inside.

The new plan, after the discount period at the first of this month, will obviate this congested condition, for only approximately one-third of the number heretofore going to the office on or about the tenth of each month, will go there at one time.

Under the new plan one district will receive bills about the tenth of the month which will be payable on or before the 20th; another will receive bills about the 20th, payable by the last of the the month, and the third will receive bills about the first, payable by the 10th.

The districts into which the city has been divided are:

East and South district, that part of the city east of the Neshannock and Shenango rivers.

West Side, Mahoningtown and Rural district, that part of the city west of the Shenango river and all rural sections.

North district, that part of the city living north, between the Shenango and Neshannock rivers.

Roe said he shot Wehr, when the latter attempted to get a shotgun after threatening him in the course of an argument over a debt. Wehr was killed instantly. Try This Simple Method For Blackheads

If you are troubled with these unsightly blemishes, get two ounces of Calonite powder from any drug store. Sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth and rub over the blackheads. In a few minutes every blackhead, big or little, will be dissolved away entirely.

New Castle News
New Castle, Penna.
Dear Editor:

Let's Build More Roads

I wish New Castle's expansion movement would grow large enough to include all of Lawrence County in its progress. The road program in this county seems to have almost flivvered out. Six or eight years ago we were going fine on a concrete road program. Why was this progress retrenched? Lawrence County has more cement and paving block factories than any other county in Western Pennsylvania. If we do not use our own products how can we expect to sell them to other counties? Mahoning County Ohio has eleven improved roads abutting Lawrence County on the West. Our county meets just one of these roads with improvement. That is the Youngstown road that passes through New Bedford. Some people seem to feel, all that is necessary is for the state to take over a road and then in time that road will be improved. It is self evident that about all the State Highway Department can do even with their increased revenue is to take over the up keep of the roads already built.

Lawrence County is a rich county. Our valuation is over $70,000,000. Our county tax millage is 6 mills. Mercer and Westmorland counties have 12 mills. Beaver and Allegheny Counties have 10 mills. Sometimes keeping down expenses is not economy. Our county turned down $18,000 of state aid money last year. We should be in a position to accept state aid money everytime it is offered. We cannot have an extensive road building program on a county levy of 6 mills. Westmorland County sets aside 4 mills of her county tax annually to be used for new road construction. I believe that each township through which an improved road passes should help a little with the cost. When a road is once built and turned over to the state its up keep ceases to be a burden of cost any longer to the township.

On the other hand the increased valuation of the abutting property is a permanent asset to the township. In some of the townships of Lawrence County there is not a foot of concrete road while other townships have up to ten miles or more. This is not a fair distribution but could be partially equalized by each township paying four or five thousand dollars per mile for the future road construction. By this plan and by increasing the county tax levy together with accepting what state aid could be obtained we could build 8 or 10 miles of solid road annually without bonding our county to do it.

We are badly in need of these roads. Lest some one might be in doubt I will suggest just a few of them, but not necessarily in the order in which they should be improved. The state highway from Wurtemburg towards Portersville should be improved to the county line where it would be connected with the Perry Highway. This improvement would serve as an eastern outlet for a district with a population of 20,000, and would enable a rich farming community to find a ready market for their produce in Ellwood City.

The road leading from East Brook north to Volant and on to connect with the Perry Highway at Leesburg in Mercer county should be improved this season. The road leading from New Bedford through Pulaski and New Wilmington to Volant should be improved. The road leading from Parkstown Corners on the Youngstown road through Edenburg and Hillsville to connect with the concrete road at the state line leading to Lowellville, Ohio should be improved. The road leading from Bessemer Boro west to concrete road at the state line should be improved. This link is about one mile in length and in completion is all that is necessary to connect two of the finest systems of roadway in Western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio. Extending west from Wampum an improved road should be built to the state line to connect with the famous Petersburg Ohio brick road. A road should be built from West Pittsburgh through Taylor township on the east side of the Beaver River to New Castle. In connection with the expansion movement of New Castle and Lawrence county should be several short roads leading out from the county seat through thickly populated sections. For example Highland avenue should be improved through Coaltown. West Washington street should be improved a mile or two through Union township. An improved highway should connect South New Castle Boro with the county seat and extend a mile or more south past the Shenango-Taylor Joint school. This brief list does not nearly complete the number of much needed roads of Lawrence County.

Another project that seems to be dead is the Crawford avenue Viaduct. This improvement would benefit almost the whole county. Through traffic over the Ellwood City road, the Butler road, the Harlansburg road and the Eastbrook road could be diverted over this much needed improvement to the North Hill, Wilmington road and possibly to the Youngstown road by way of the Harbor Bridge. At present the only outlet is over the narrow and rough route through Washington street where the congestion and traffic lights may cause a half hour delay in traveling a mile or two.

We are living in a motor age. Automobiles are increasing daily. Let's not hold back the progress of Lawrence County. With improved roads our schools can be consolidated and made more efficient. Our farmers can more easily market their products. Our industrial population can buy better and more food supplies at lower prices. Business for our merchants will be increased. A good system of concrete highways is the best advertisement Lawrence County's cement factories can get. Let's make Lawrence County a better place to live by adopting a sane financial policy in building improved roads.

Yours truly,
A. Kirk Thompson.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT.

Now is the time to use rhubarb. Eat plenty of the sauce, make your desserts with it—pies and puddings—and preserve it for next winter Some women have excellent results with raw rhubarb thoroughly cleaned and cut in pieces, then put in cans, fill the cans with cold water and seal tightly. I am including a rhubarb relish recipe in the list for the breakfast:

Orange Juice
Graham Gems Poached Eggs
Rhubarb Sauce or Relish
Coffee.

TODAY'S RECIPES.

Graham Gems—One-fourth cup sugar, one egg, pinch of salt, one teaspoon soda, dissolved, one cup heavy sour milk, one tablespoon melted butter, two cups graham flour, two-thirds cup white flour. Mix in order given. Place in buttered gem tins and bake in moderately hot oven for 20 minutes. This makes about one and one half dozen. This same recipe may be used with some bran substituted for the graham flour. If the batter seems too thick with only one cup of sour milk add more until it is the consistency of rather stiff cake batter.

Rheubarb Relish—Four pounds of rhubarb partly cooked, juice of one lemon, juice and pulp of four oranges, minced peel of two oranges, three and one-half pounds sugar, one and one half pounds raisins. Cook until it will jelly.

SUGGESTIONS.

Decorate Candles.

Try varnishing your candles with a plain shellac or painting them with delicate water colors which will not only make a pretty addition to the dinner table but prevent candles from dripping on the table cover.

Let it Dry.

If your clothes are splashed with mud let it dry on the garments. Try brushing it off with a stiff whisk broom and if that will not remove it, try scratching it off with the edge of a penny. This is just as sharp as needed without injuring the material and will usually do the trick.

Don't keep articles that you use frequently on a high shelf.

Plan Better Drainage On Hospital Arteries

To Fix New Grade On Lutton, Phillips And South Mercer Streets

ALBERT STREET BILL FOR PAVING FAVORED

City council in formal session today acted upon three new ordinances, changing and fixing the grade of Mercer, Phillips and Lutton street which are to be resurfaced. The action will result in better drainings, according to Municipal Engineer Frank Miller.

The grade to be changed and fixed affect the streets as follows:

Mercer, between Phillips and Lutton.

Phillips, between Mercer and Mill.

Lutton, between Mercer and Mill.

Council passed the ordinances to committee then reported them out favorably along with the following bills:

Changing and fixing the grade of Sumner avenue between Carlisle street and Highland avenue.

Changing and fixing the grade of Delaware avenue between Park and Hillcrest avenues.

Changing and fixing the grade of Mercer street between Wallace avenue and a point 1645 feet north.

An ordinance providing for the paving of Albert street between Clenmore boulevard and Leasure avenue.

President Tells People To Take Reports Slowly

Administers Mild Spanking To Those Attempting To Force U. S. Action

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 3.—President Coolidge today delivered a mild "spanking" to those foreign interests that are striving to push the United States into adopting a more belligerent Chinese policy than Washington consider advisable or necessary at this time.

Taking official cognizance for the first time of the propaganda and misleading reports originating abroad concerning this government's Chinese policy, Mr. Coolidge advised the American people to regard with suspicion any stories purporting to state the American government's attitude toward China that originate outside of Washington.

Although Mr. Coolidge named no names, it was fairly obvious that his thrust was directed at the British, who have been endeavoring unsuccessfully for some weeks to persuade the administration to go along with Britain in presenting a stiff ultimatum to the Chinese Nationalists.

The British press has been filled for several weeks with acrid criticism of the American Government's Chinese policy; British newspapers have carried such headlines as "America Deserts Allies;" reports have originated abroad and been cabled to this country that the American Minister at Pekin is about to resign because of dissatisfaction with Washington's policy; and there have been other inspired reports that American consular authorities in China are "disgusted" and "ashamed" of the moderate policy insisted upon in Washington.

All these reports, so far as Mr. Coolidge is aware, are untrue. He does not consider that America has "deserted" her allies because she has no allies; minister MacMurray is not going to resign so far as Mr. Coolidge knows; and he has yet to hear anything officially about the dissatisfaction of consular officers abroad with the American policy.

Coolidge Sends Hoover-Davis To Flood District

Herbert Hoover And Secretary Of War Davis Will Make Reports

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 3.—President Coolidge announced today he had asked Secretary of Commerce Hoover and Secretary of War Davis to proceed at once to the flood area to prepare for him detailed reports on the relief and rehabilitation situation.

Davis will be assisted by the army engineer corps and the Mississippi river commission. The president indicated he would submit the reports to congress for use in drafting flood control legislation.

The president believes the $10,000,000 relief fund sought by the Red Cross will be adequate for the present. He thought the fund would be subscribed easily as the American people gave $11,000,000 for the Japanese earthquake sufferers.

Improved American Race Through Sterilization Seen In Court Ruling

Supreme Court Upholds Virginia Sterilization Law In Decision

Will Be Big Benefit To Nation If Adopted Universally, Is Belief

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 3.—An improved race of Americans is on its way as a result of the supreme court's decision, upholding the Virginia sterilization law, it was predicted today by government health authorities.

With 20 states having similar laws to sterilize imbeciles and epileptics, with many including habitual criminals, the medical men said there will be gradual elimination of mental defectives from the race. If the laws were rigorously enforced throughout the nation, they added, the American people would become a "normal mental" race and generally more healthy.

"The more unfit rendered sterile, the more rapid will be the development of a race of supermen in America", said Dr. Claude C. Pierce, acting surgeon general of the United States. "The supreme court's decision is a step toward a super-race, although it is but a feeble step".

The court itself was very emphatic in holding the Virginia law constitutional. The decision, rendered by a body of fathers and grandfathers, said, in part: "It is better for all the world if, instead of waiting to execute degenerate offspring for crime or to let them starve for their imbecility, society can prevent those who are manifestly unfit from continuing their kind".

The law will work no hardship on the people sterilized, Dr. Pierce declared, aside from rendering them incapable of reproduction.

"There is no justification for the breeding of persons known to be mentally incompetent," said Pierce. "Sterlization doesn't interfere with the method of living, the enjoyment of physical pleasures or any other inherent natural right, except reproduction. It is a step in the right direction and toward the making of a race of super men."

In theory Dr. Pierce added, sterlization ought to improve the general health of the patient. The law however, must be strictly enforced, he said, to have a general beneficial effect on the race.

Dr. Lawrence Kolb, an authority in the United States public health service, also endorsed the court's decision.

"If enforced, this law will prevent the reproduction of mental efectives," said Dr. Kolb. "It is a step toward decreasing the number of unfortunates and toward the production of a mentally normal race—something the world has never known."

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Col. E. W. Starling, assistant chief of the Secret Service, will leave this week to inspect sites in the Middle West which have been offered for the summer White House, President Coolidge declared today.

Starling will visit Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Colorado and South Dakota.

The President said that a mild temperature would be an important factor in choosing the Summer White House. He indicated to callers that he favored either Lake Winnebago, Wisconsin, or Lake Minnetanka, Minnesota, but he mentioned Colorado Springs, Northern Iowa and the Black Hills of South Dakota as possibilities for his summer vacation.

Q. Why does Web Cord add to the mileage of United States Tires?

A. Consider first what happens in a balloon tire—the extent to which the side-wall structure must constantly bend and recover. Combined flexibility and strength are demanded far beyond the needs of high pressure tires.

Web Cord is the completely satisfying answer to these requirements. By soaking the cord in pure, liquid latex, each tiny fibre of the cotton is insulated with rubber. And this more intimate union between cord and rubber is accomplished without the use of weakening chemical solvents.

Furthermore, the latex webs the cords together without the use of cross-tie threads. One of the major causes of internal friction is removed.

The result is maximum strength with maximum flexibility—which means maximum mileage.

Spring Find You Languid?

Uneliminated Blood Impurities Make One Tired and Listless

DO these spring days find you languid and out of sorts? Too many feel tired and listless in the spring. Too often the cause is sluggish kidneys.

To be well the kidneys must thoroughly cleanse the blood of poisonous waste. Sluggish kidneys permit waste impurities to remain and cause slow poisoning of the system.

One is apt to feel tired and drowsy—to have a dull, nagging backache and annoying headaches and dizzy spells. That the kidneys are not working right is often shown by scanty or burning excretions.

Assist the kidneys with a stimulant diuretic.* Use Doan's Pills. They have been winning new friends for more than forty years. Doan's act on the kidneys only—are endorsed from coast to coast. Ask your neighbor!

*Diuretics are agents which increase the secretion of the kidneys.—Encyclopedia definition.

50,000 Users Publicly Endorse Doan's

J. L. Richardson, 511 E. High Street, Portland, Ind., says: "The action of my kidneys seemed to get worse all the time, and the secretions pained in passage. I tired easily and finally got so that I couldn't do any work. A dull backache made me miserable. It was only after using Doan's Pills that I got well."

Mrs. F. E. Watson, 7 High St., Lynn, Mass., says: "The time came when I found myself in bad health. The kidney secretions were scalding and caused me much annoyance. My back ached constantly and I had attacks of dizziness. Doan's Pills were prompt in helping me and I shall never cease to be grateful to them."

Change in Billing Method
for Electric Service in New Castle

BECAUSE of the great increase in the number of electric service customers and the inconvenience caused to them by all bills being mailed on or about the first of each month, payable on or before the 10th of the month, your electric service company has divided the city into three districts, each with its own period for receiving and paying bills.

The districts are as follows:

East and South District—including that part of the city lying east of the Neshannock and Shenango rivers.

West Side, Mahoningtown and Rural District—including that part of the city west of the Shenango river and all rural sections.

North District—including that part of the city lying north, between the Shenango and Neshannock rivers.

Bills for all districts were mailed the first of May and are payable on or before May 10.

The new system now becomes effective, so that customers in the East and South district will receive bills on or about May 10, payable on or before May 20.

Customers in the West Side, Mahoningtown and Rural District will receive bills on or about May 20, payable on or before May 31.

Customers in the North district will receive bills on or about June 1, payable on or before June 10.

In this one month, due to necessary changes in meter reading dates, some of our customers will receive bills covering a period of approximately three weeks and others covering a period of approximately seven weeks. Following May, all bills will cover the usual period of thirty days.

Due to the greater convenience for all our customers we feel sure that each of them will extend us hearty co-operation in making this improvement in our service.

We thank our Heavenly Father for permitting so many to attend this fifty-fifth annual Conference, for the good weather, and the Christian fellowship enjoyed by all. And although we feel very keenly the departure of three of our oldest ministers, Rev. S. Higginson, Rev. Ward and Rev. Wilson, we know that our loss is their gain, and although they rest from their labors, their works do follow them.

Resolved, that we express our heartfelt thanks to Rev. H. J. Buckingham and his estimable wife for receiving us so kindly, also the members and friends of the Church for receiving us into their homes with such kind hospitality, thus making our stay so pleasant and profitable.

Resolved, that we extend our thanks to the committee on arrangements for providing such a splendid program, and also supplying the inner man at the Y. W. C. A.

Resolved, that we extend our thanks to the choir for their beautiful and spiritual selections, also the soloists, Miss Mildred George, Miss Sadie Lewis and James MacKenzie, the chorister, John Richardson and organist Miss Frances Chappell.

Resolved, that we thank the ministers for their splendid sermons and addresses, also Brother George and Dampier for their words of welcome.

Resolved, that we thank the New Castle News for their courtesy in publishing the news of the conference.

We heartily appreciate all the kindnesses that have been lavished upon us and we pray for the blessing of God to rest upon us all, praying that we shall go to our churches inspired to do greater things for our Master.

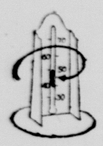
Kelvinator's dry, frosty cold actually improves foods

When you use Kelvinator Electric Refrigeration, you use a metal freezing unit instead of ice. This freezing unit stays so cold it becomes thickly coated with frost, and the air in the refrigerator becomes dry and frosty.

This is true refrigeration. It actually improves foods. The good things you keep in your refrigerator are better than ever when you take them out.

Kelvinator requires no attention—you simply forget it. It regulates itself and your refrigerator stays cold day after day whether you are at home or visiting. It can be installed in your own refrigerator. Phone or call and learn how.



The Zone of Kelvination

Kelvinator maintains a condition of dry, frosty cold that is constantly under fifty degrees. This is the Zone of Kelvination. It is much colder than the average ice-cooled refrigerator.

In this intensely cold and dry air, foods not only keep fresh and sweet for days but actually improve. Meats become mellow and acquire a delicious tenderness and flavor. Green salads and vegetables "crisp up" in a marvelous way. All perishable foods stay sweet, wholesome and inviting.

"What's new in gasoline?"

LAST year you and thousands of other motorists saw in Atlantic Gasoline a far-reaching Atlantic contribution to the science of motor fuel manufacture.

Your own car gave you the proof.

Naturally, such strides of progress prompt the question, "What's new in gasoline this year?" And again Atlantic has the answer:

A still further development of the Atlantic process of combining different elements from different types of petroleum

It was found that crude from the oil fields of California produced certain distinctive qualities in gasoline. That petroleum from the immense Texas regions furnished other unusual components. That certain elements from the gas wells of West Virginia offered still another valuable ingredient.

But it was in the chemical changes produced by the scientific refining of this combination that the greatest and most recent Atlantic discoveries were made. Your motor will tell you the rest of the story—that here is indeed the finest all-round gasoline you have ever used

A gasoline so quick-and-ready for action that starting loses all the trial of patience it once held.

So remarkably balanced that no matter what the speed, the pull or the temperature of your motor, every drop is converted into live wheel-turning energy.

So clean-burning that power-robbing carbon is practically exterminated.

So rangy and alert that you can crawl placidly behind congested, slow-moving traffic or spurt through a clear-way without a moment's hesitation.

The season is on! All Atlantic pumps and service stations have the new 1927 Atlantic Gasoline. Put it in your tank from the beginning, and your fuel worries will be as light as the cares of a boy on the last day of school

FOX AND WEASEL CONSPIRE AGAINST THE CHIPMUNK

The sixth little Chipmunk had been chattering so fast that his words fairly tumbled over each other in their hurry to get out of his mouth, but now he stopped, sat up and wrung his tiny paws together.

"Child, child, do go on", begged Mother Chipmunk. "Tell your father and me what Weasel said to Fox. I am sure it must have been something that frightened you or you wouldn't look like that. Stop shivering, Reddy, and finish your tale. Remember our lives depend upon what you overheard."

"Oh, I know it, I know it", chattered the young fellow, "but it makes me shiver to think of it. Well, as I was saying, Fox asked Weasel upon what he was to dine so well. Weasel slunk over until he stood close beside Fox and then the two put their heads together. And, Mother, Father, what do you think the answer was?"

"I am afraid we can guess", said Mother Chipmunk, and nervously peered over her shoulder. As for Father Chipmunk, neither he nor the children could stand still, they were so upset.

"On Chipmunks!" squeaked Weasel. "On fat, nut-fed Chipmunks!"

Fox sniffed.

"Oh pooh!" barked he. "I don't think that's a very bright idea. I don't need your help to catch a Chipmunk, you know."

"Oh, is that so?" sneered Weasel. "Don't be too sure. I happened to see you making a desperate effort to capture a little fellow only a short while ago, but he went like a streak of greased lightning and you missed him. Come, come, you can't afford to be too stuck up! It is winter and food is not as plentiful as when the warm weather is here. Swallow your pride and listen to me."

"Well, go on, Weasel", said Cutie Fox, and licked his chops. "What is your plan?"

"Just this: "I hate this family of Chipmunks!" Weasel ground his teeth. "Time and again have they gotten away from me, goodness knows how! I have followed them into their tunnel, but they 'got wind' of my coming somehow and were out the other entrance before I could grab them. I hate them, every one, I tell you! Even the children are too clever for me, and this is why I want your help! If I capture even one of the youngsters I certainly can't hope to destroy the whole family, and yet I want to get rid of them all, and now. This is my idea. Only this very morning I discovered the doorway at the other end of the burrow, the very doorway through which they have so long escaped me, and for which I have so often looked. Now, you stay right here and I will hurry around—it is only about 20 feet on the other side of the tunnel—sneak in and drive those horid Chipmunks right into your waiting jaws!"

NEW CASTLE CLUB PROTESTS TWO DEFEATS

Enter "Howl" To League Leader

Buffington, Rightful Property Of New Castle, Plays With Youngstown

LOCALS SIGN NEW MATERIAL IS REPORT

By "BUGS" WALTHER

William Strange, president of the Ohio and Pennsylvania League, will be appealed to by the New Castle club in their efforts to gain possession of Earl Buffington. Buffington was traded to New Castle by Beaver Falls, but refuses to report here.

Several days ago Manager Ed. Harvey of the Beaver Falls Elks made a hurried trip to this city and talked "turkey" with the local officials in his effort to get Grabfelder, the local shortstop. New Castle listened with all ears to the plea made by Harvey, and after giving the matter due consideration, finally consented to the trade that was to have shifted Buffington to the Lawrence county seat in exchange for Grabfelder. Grabfelder is now with the Beaver Falls team, but Buffington joined Youngstown.

Need Buffington

Buffington is a fine second baseman and also a hitter of ability. In the opening game of the year here on last Saturday it was mainly through the efforts of this youngster that the Youngstown team gained their 9 to 8 verdict, and again on Sunday at Youngstown it was the batting of Buffington that brought victory to the Ohioans.

The board of directors of the New Castle club held a lengthy meeting on Monday night and drew up protoest plans to be presented to William Strange at his office in Canton. New Castle insists that the two games Saturday and Sunday rightfully belong to them, owing to the fact that Buffington had no business in the game unless under the colors of the local contingent. The protest from all angles seems well founded and it would not be surprising to the writer if Strange ordered Buffington suspended from the O. & P. League unless he reports to New Castle.

Sacco Denies Story

Carm Sacco has strenuously denied the story that appeared in a Youngstown paper on Monday to the effect that Frank Weimer, local outfielder, had been fined and suspended indefinitely for failing to show up at the Sunday game in Youngstown. It is true that quite a little concern was felt in this city and on the New Castle roster when the hard-hitting pasture guardian failed to appear in the line-up on Sunday, but Weimer set the matter right and straightened up the situation by calling Sacco on the phone late Monday night and explaining his absence.

Weimer's message, received here last night, fixes things up, said Sacco. Weimer fully intended to report at Youngstown, but met with a misfortune outside of Cleveland early Sunday afternoon while driving to Youngstown and was delayed for several hours.

Anthony Signs Up

The directors of the local team announced today that Earl Anthony would appear in a New Castle uniform for the remainder of the season. Anthony, it will be remembered, played here two years ago and made quite an impression with the local fans. The youngster is a clever shortstop and will be a valuable addition to the locals in their fight for the loop flag. It is altogether likely that Raley will be moved over to second and Anthony placed at shortstop for the game here Saturday with Cleveland.

It was also announced today that Harry Thompson of Ambridge had been signed by the local club. Thompson is a third baseman and made quite an impression in the game at Youngstown last Sunday. Frank Swartz, a first baseman, and the property of the Cincinnati Reds, has been sent to New Castle for more seasoning, and if satisfactory arrangements can be made the rookie big leaguer will be seen in action this coming Saturday.

Meis Recovers

New Castle is still in the market for a couple of good flingers. Carl "Molly" Meis, the big right-hander from Toledo, has fully recovered from his recent injury and is fit to start the game Saturday against the Tellings. Meis is a pitcher with a world of experience and is expected to become one of the leading pitchers of the league as the season advances. Jamieson, J. Flynn and R. Flynn will round out the pitching staff for the present, it was announced.

Robert Flynn filled the position of acting manager in the first two games played by the locals and handled the assignment in first-class manner. A permanent manager will be named within a short while, was the information handed down today.

Silver Tops Win From Hoodoo Owls

The Silver Tops defeated the Hoodoo Owls 24 to 3 in a game played on Klee's Field on Monday afternoon.

The fine pitching of Payne who allowed but three hits and fanned eight batters featured the game. The hitting of McKay with a home run, and two doubles also featured the contest. Sullivan on the hill for the Hoodoo Owls was found for nineteen hits.

Polish A. A. And Energy Practice

Two teams met at Energy and as a result Polish A. A. defeated Energy 10 to 2. Free hitting was the order of the day with Boron getting two doubles and Sumner one. Energy let Mackey, Duncan, Shouk and Van Eman try out their arms for the first time this season while Smolnick unfurled the muscles in his whip for the Polish outfit.

Lawrence County Loop Teams Play Saturday

Umpires' Meeting Called For Thursday Evening At News

EIGHT TEAMS IN COUNTY CIRCUIT

By ED. FRITZ

Eight teams in the Lawrence County Baseball league will make their 1927 appearance Saturday and probabilities are that four good games will be played inasmuch as all the teams are holding practice sessions for the opening tilt.

Ellwood City captured the pennant last season and will go into their first 1927 struggle against Bessemer at Ewing Park. According to Joe Daugherty, Ellwood anticipates another good season.

Hart At Bessemer

Walter Hart, one of the brainiest catchers Lawrence county has ever had will manage Bessemer and as a result of "Hub" appending his signature to the managerial contract Bessemer citizens have shown increased interest in baseball.

The P. R. R. will be headed by Dan Potter and will travel to Energy where there is a grandstand to accommodate the fans while the Independent A. A. will play the Neshannocks at Coaltown. This team is a new one but has strong backing and a galaxy of stars.

Coaltown will be led by Joe Travers and the Independents by Bill Chill and with these two former catchers leading their aggregations there should be plenty of excitement. Travers says Coaltown will have an up-and-doing crew while Bill declares the Independents have one of the best teams in the county, bar none.

Bob Robertson and his heavy hitting Wampum team will take on the Third Warders, at Croton. Wampum has always proved a big drawing card because Wampum plays ball and Bob keeps his players hustling. He doesn't fool. Croton will be managed by Colaluca. It is Croton's first season in the Lawrence county league.

Lawrence County league teams will display more snap this season than during any year heretofore. They know the fans are with them and they know they have players as good as those to be found in other similar bodies and when "Play ball" sounds Saturday a hot race will start.

Umpires Galore

There are a dozen or more umpires seeking berths in the loop. However, not all of them can be given assignments. The probabilities are that umpires who have served for several seasons will be given preference on account of their experience.

None of the umpires, however, will start the season with the knowledge that their job is secure for the year. Those appointed will have to keep "showing their eye and good judgment" to retain their job behind the catcher or along the bases.

The umpires who have made application to handle the indicator are:—McCann, Hudson, Patterson, Evans, Park, Ryan, McCormick, Turner, Jones, McCarthy, Diana and Blaine. It is probable that an extra set of umpires will be kept in reserve.

The arbiters are scheduled to meet at 6:30 p. m. Daylight Savings time, Thursday evening at the News. They will meet with the writer who has been assigned to the chairmanship of the board of commissioners with umpires under his jurisdiction.

Those not appearing at the meeting will give the impression that since handing in their names they have changed their minds about appearing in a blue cap and chest protector and will not be considered when the schedule is compiled for Saturday games.

College Tennis Team Will Play Duquesne Team

Season To Open On Friday; Spring Football Training Comes To End

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., May 3. Seasonal sports are again in their proper niches at Westminster college. Spring football came to an end Saturday morning after a week's drill under Coaches Beede and Lawther. The tennis team will face Duquesne University at Pittsburgh Friday afternoon in a delayed opener while the track squad will start May 13, meeting Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh.

The tennis squad was to have opened last Friday at Pittsburgh with Pitt but the university lads cancelled at the last moment. In fact the Pittites called hostilities off after Westminster's netmen had started the jaunt for Pittsburgh which meant the United Presbyterians reached the steel city only to find the "no match" sign on the Pitt courts.

The grid game scheduled for Saturday morning to test the ability of new candidates and to rehearse plays under the new rules failed to materialize. When the candidates assembled Beede could not locate 22 able bodied men. The result was that Beede and Lawther played with one squad while the other eleven was only "nine," as two backs were missing. This meant only a line scrimage could be held. It seems as though the hard work during the week caused a multitude of minor injuries which made football playing impossible. Few of the lads who reported were in condition and the work caused blistered feet and sore muscles while the dummy scrimmages placed several on the shelf.

During the sessions four prospective freshmen for next year drilled under Beede. They were Benninghoff and Hoover, linemen from Meadville, Dible a back from Verona, and DiRicci, a tackle from Youngstown. The quartet will add strength to Westminster's forces if they enroll.

A big international power boat regatta is to be held at Buffalo the last week of July.

Robins Defeat Giants, 10 To 7

Dodgers Come To Life And Take Fourth Straight Victory

WHITE SOX ARE STILL WINNING

BY LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 3.—The last shall be first, and the first shall be out of luck, quoth the prophet as he slipped in at the end of the bread line—and the Brooklyn Robins and the Chicago White Sox are applying this philosophy to the national pastime with disastrous results to their highly touted rivals. The lowly Robins knocked the Giants out of first place in winning their fourth straight game yesterday, while the White Sox, likewise, billeted with the also-rans in preseason forecasts, made it seven victories in a row at the expense of the Detroit Tigers.

Babe Herman, the Brooklyn first baseman who recently was benched because of acute paralysis of the willow, clouted two home runs and a single as the Robins put the bee on the Giants, 10 to 7. The victory pulled the Robins out of the cellar.

While the Giants were doing a fade out, the St. Louis Cardinals, busily engaged in a pullman pinochle tournament enroute from St. Louis to Pittsburgh, were eased into first place.

Ted Lyons was the whole works as the White Sox subdued the Tigers, 3 to 1. Lyons limited the Bengals to five hits and helped himself to a home run in the bargain.

The Browns staged a garrison finish, scoring five runs in the ninth to nose out the Indians, 7 to 6. Sisler's homer and a timely single by Schang featured the rally. Rice and Burns also starred at bat with four hits apiece.

Taking careful aim at a peanut vendor in the stands, Peewee Wanninger of the Red Sox uncorked a wild heave which staked the Athletics to a 6 to 5 victory in the tenth inning. The Sox had little or no kick coming however as they had previously scored three runs on wild throws.

The Yankees' steam roller negotiated a 9 to 6 decision over the Senators. Hoyt wabbled alarmingly in the ninth but Wilcey Moore, the Yanks' new pallbearer, stopped Washington's rally. Goose Goslin failed to get a hit for the first time this season.

The Phillies, Braves, Reds, Cubs, Pirates and Cardinals enjoyed a vacation.

Nominating JOE DUNDEE

Because his name isn't Joe Dundee at all, but Samuel Lazzaro.

Because he won fame second-handed some months ago by traveling out to the Pacific coast to be knocked out in one round by K. O. Eddie Roberts.

Because he lived to see Mr. Roberts have his fling and then fade.

Because he is one of the leading aspirants for Pete Latzo's title right now, by virtue of a record more than press agenting.

Because he numbers among his victories triumphs over Sailor Friedman, Sid Barbarian, Pinkie Mitchell, Joe Simonich, Willie Harmon, Jack Zivic and no less a personage than Mickey Walker, now middleweight king.

Because he is credited with a technical knockout over the former welter chief.

And because he is now in training for a crack at Walker's old title, now held by Pete Latzo, at New York on June 3.

Of the 49 meets held by the Intercollegiate Four A's, Harvard has won the most victories with 13.

SORDS POINTS

Mr. Gehrig Displays His Finesse With Home Runs

By NORMAN E. BROWN

CAMPUS NOTE.

Mr. Henry Louis Gehrig, Columbia University, is doing post graduate work under Prof. Miller Huggins and hopes to emerge next fall with his B. H. degree.

The B. H. referring to Bachelor of Homers.

For be it known that Gehrig, known in his junior prom days as "Lou," is now making a bid for home run honors in the American League. The same ambition being a left-handed kick in the face at George Herman Ruth, who turned home run hitting business from a fair living to a well paying job.

All of which is probably satisfying news to New Englanders especially.

Gehrig, signed by the Yankees in 1922 after he left Columbia, was sent to the Hartford club of the Eastern League for the 1923 campaign. Gehrig had been a pitcher by preference—or the coach's wishes—at Columbia but the Hartford pilot, being tipped off to his hitting ability by the Yankee scouts, put him at first to keep him in the lineup every day. Gehrig not only lived up to his rep as a hitter but played a brilliant game at first. In 59 games at the initial bag he hung up a .304 batting average.

He became one of the most popular players in the circuit. I ran into a colony of New England folk down south the following spring, when Gehrig was back with the Yanks and their interest was centered in Gehrig's chances. They all predicted brilliant future for him.

Showed 'Em His Stuff

He broke into but 10 games with the Yanks in 1924 before he was sent back to Hartford for more seasoning but in 12 trips to the plate in those 10 appearances he collected six hits—a .500 average.

He was recalled by the Yanks at the close of 1925 and his work the following season caused Miller Huggins to tie the can to Wallie Pipp, veteran mauler of the old championship team.

In 1925, playing 126 games at first, Gehrig came within five points of a .300 average. His hits, when he connected were solid smashes. Huggins, impressed with his hitting ability, worked with him to make it more effective still.

Last year, in playing the whole string out at first while the team was plunging along to the championship Gehrig hit .313 and led the league in triples, with 20 of them. He also smashed out 16 homers and 47 doubles, collecting a total of 314 bases on 179 hits.

This year he started out—not to hog the triple honors again, but to stretch those triples to home runs.

If he holds his present gait he is destined to become one of the game's greatest natural hitters.

"Whadya Mean, Fine Points."

Which should give Mr. Gehrig a laugh for early in his career the critics, while appreciating his possibilities as a mechanical ball player, intimated that his failure to absorb the fine points should hold him down.

The fine points of the game become incidental when one starts hitting for four bases or no count.

Tommy Loughran Meets Stribling In Bout Tonight

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 3.—Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia meets Young Stribling of Georgia tonight at Ebbets field, Brooklyn, in a bout that should have an important bearing on the light-heavyweight situation. The bout is scheduled for 10 rounds and Loughran is favored to win. The Philadelphian will endeavor to strengthen his position as the foremost challenger for Jack Delaney's crown, while Stribling is anxious to atone for his disappointing bout with Paul Berlenbach.

Betting sentiment shifted to Loughran following the circulation of reports that Stribling had sustained a serious injury. Walk Miller, Stribling's manager, requested yesterday that the bout be postponed, but examination of Stribling later revealed that his injury was of a minor nature.

Tonight's bout ushers in the outdoor boxing season here.

Neshannocks To Play Troop B

Manager Joe Travers has called a practice session of the Neshannocks for every evening this week, including this evening. The practice Tuesday will be in the form of a practice game with Troop B team of the Twilight League.

In 1906 Tom Jones of the St. Louis team made 22 put-outs in one game at Boston.

Cobb Among Leaders In Hitting, Playing Great Game For Macks

Ty Cobb Surprises Critics By His Showing With Athletics

Veteran "Georgia Peach" Can Still Cover Plenty Of Territory

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor Internat'al News Service

NEW YORK, May 3.—Just by way of keeping the record straight and possibly righting a great wrong, or something, the writer wishes to call attention to the fact that T. Raymond Cobb, the man with a promising future, is hitting an even .400 today. Further than that, he is running amuck on the bases and is playing well enough to get by in the outfield, so it possibly is time to cease chanting the litany and begin cheering wildly at the slightest provocation.

The writer has held the notion that Cobb won't finish the season as an Athletic regular and it may be that I will be right, just by way of variety. But that is of no great importance compared with the fact that Cobb's record for the first three weeks of the season is one of the outstanding achievements of all baseball.

No man in the history of the game has given it so much of himself as Cobb has done in his twenty three years in the major leagues; no man has suffered the physical and mental toil that Cobb has given in the pure sensationalism of his play. Yet today, well past forty, he is hitting with the leaders and, indeed, rapidly overtaking them.

Cobb Hitting .386

The last official averages showed Cobb hitting .386 but he has been going places and doing things in the meantime. For a half hour yesterday, his average had attained the noble altitude of .418 and with another hit he would have ranged in behind Fothergill and Goslin for the league leadership. But he didn't get it and his average underwent a bad rally, so to speak.

However, no club has been able to stop Cobb since the start of the season and Philadelphia has gone wild over him. It is not unusual, they say, for Cobb to be asked to autograph a hundred baseballs before a game at Shibe Park and the estimate is that his signature has been written in the thousands since the opening game.

Baseball writers of the town concede that Cobb is doing a lot of base running on his own initiative; that he is not getting the signs from Connie Mack on the bench in making this play or that. But they also say that Connie is satisfied to let him do it, since the Athletics are an uninspired ball club and he signed Cobb for just the sort of thing he is doing. His two steals home were casual decisions by Cobb himself, it is said.

This may be individualism but a club like the Athletics surely has needed a touch of inspiration somewhere during recent years.

At that, most of Cobb's base running has been sound. He can't get over the ground the way he could even four years ago but the head is guiding the legs and Cobb seldom guesses wrong. When he gaes from first to third on a single, he usually gets there, regardless of legs, and on Sunday at the stadium he startled the Yanks by advancing from first to second on an outfield fly. The ordinary ball player stations himself between first and second, thus playing the 1,000 to 1 shot that the ball will be dropped.

But Cobb and the ordinary player have nothing in common, not even the elderly Cobb of today. He may be a bust in the last season; he may not last to the wire in October, but, considering everything, I would say that nothing Cobb has done in all his sensational career has been greater than his remarkable showing in the early weeks of the present season.

Twilight League To Open Season This Evening

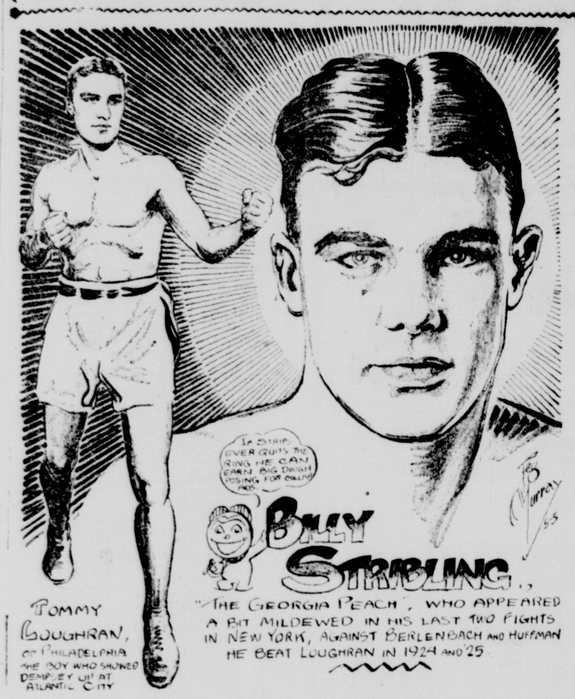
Tonight's Petting Party — By Feg Murray



Tonight, in Brooklyn, N. Y., Young Stribling of Macon, Georgia, fights Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia, Pa.—for no particular reason, that I can think of. Although he is only 22 years old, William L. Stribling is one of those chaps whose future lies behind him. Having fought at the rate of one battle every twelve days for six years, he is "burnt out" before most boxers have begun to reach their best years. He is a fine example of flaming youth with the flame put out, and why the referee didn't put him out of the ring in his so-called fight with Paul Berlenbach in New York City last June is something I never could figure out.

Tommy Loughran is well known as a master boxer without a wallop, and as the gent who showed those who were willing to see, what Dempsey's true conditions was at his training camp at Atlantic City before the Tunney fight. Tommy boxed rings around William Harrison Dempsey and made the movie-champ look very foolish indeed. Loughran appeared in a six-rounder on the same card with Jack and Gene, and finished giving the late Jack Delaney an artistic trimming before it started to rain. He was one of the few things about the whole evening that wasn't "all wet."

But to get down to the business at hand, the two lads have met twice before and Stribling has won both times. You heard a lot lately about Tommy Loughran being feared by most of the heavyweights and light-heavyweights in the country, and also about Young Stribling being a madeover fighter since he came under Walk Walker's management. But Walk Miller managed Billy when he put up that sad exhibition against Eddie Huffman in Madison Square Garden not so long ago, and Loughran has knocked out about four men in the last six years, so it shouldn't be a very bloodthirsty affair.

I guess that Promoter Humbert Fugazy realized that since it was the first week in May and the Brooklyn ball club was playing across the river, he'd better stage an outdoor show. Oh, well, it probably won't snow, anyway.

Feg Murray Says—

"Ask Me Another":

Q.—What is poke checking in hockey?

A.—Poking your opponent in the cheek.

Q.—How does Walter Hagen's grip differ from that of Bobby Jones?

A.—Hagen uses a brown leather traveling bag, while Jones prefers a black suitcase.

Q.—Who was the first pitcher in history?

A.—Cleopatra. Her curves fooled such famous veterans as Caesar and Antony.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN

The award for being the most determined cuss in the major leagues, at this writing, should go to Earl Webb, newcomer with the Chicago Cubs.

You may recall that Webb celebrated his debut in a Chicago uniform by slamming out two home runs in the opening game against the Cardinals.

A few days later he kept Bill Sherdel from a one-hit game by nicking him for a two-base hit. The only other blow Sherdel suffered was a home run by Hack Wilson.

Then, more recently, Manager McCarthy benched Webb for no valid reason, only to insert him as a pinch hitter before the end of the game. The Cubs were playing the Reds at Cincy.

Stepping up to the plate in the ninth inning to bat for English, young shortstop, Mr. Webb proceeded to hit one for four bases.

Which was just Mr. Webb's way of making up for the eight innings on the bench.

In the rush of baseball and other news the recent announcement that Sir Thomas Lipton had invited Sheldon Clark, commodore of the Chicago Yacht club to join the crew of Sir Tom's Shamrock III in the Cowes regatta, off the British Isles, this coming summer, received little attention.

There is a tribute to Clark's sportsmanship and yachting enthusiasm in the invitation. Clark established a world's record with his Miss Chicago, its time of 72 miles an hour making it the fastest single engined hydroplane in the world. He is also the owner of the Rainbow, a schooner, which has participated in the long distance races from Chicago to Mackinac. The same invitation has been extended to him in previous years but this is the first time his business will permit his accepting it.

Now that the announcement that Jack Dempsey will be fit to defend his title by July 1, and then carry on through the tourney, if he wins, has been digested the public has but one thought—as I sense the general sentiment.

That is, "Now forget the hest of the bunkum and fight!"

The boxing populace, as gullible as it usually is, is tired of this, "I'm going to fight," "Dempsey is through," "I am not under contract to anyone" stuff.

It will, also, quite willingly forego the monotony of reading several columns weekly concerning alleged disagreements over terms, referees, color of the lemonade, the number of aisle seats, etc.

If Dempsey has made a definite decision to fight that should be sufficient from his end. Let him get down to the business of training and permit the ballyhoo to carry on without him.

If Paolino Uzcudun is going to fight him let's accept the fact that the Spanish visitor has been picked because of his drawing power at the gate and refrain from letting our imagination run riot concerning the type of fight it will be.

The main thing—unless we are being given the run around again—is that John Harrison Dempsey, once king of the heavyweights, is to attempt a comeback.

That is the thing the public has wanted since the winking Mr. Tunney won the title from him in a point decision battle at Philadelphia.

Bring on Dempsey's comeback effort and let the future and the bologna take care of themselves.

While the Brooklyn Dodgers were being collected for the spring training season Manager Robinson stated frankly that he was counting on Johnny Butler (a sick man last season) to steady his infield this year and be the "main spring" in the infield defense. Also he was depending on the venerable Max Carey to direct the destinies of the outfield and steady the other members.

Just by way of showing the uncertainties of baseball it is pointed out that he had to bench both of them the other day because of their rotten fielding.

6 things to understand about used car allowances

1 WHEN you trade-in your used car for a new car, you are after all making a purchase, not a sale. You are simply applying your present car as a credit toward the purchase price of the new car.

2 YOUR used car has only one fundamental basis of value; i. e., what the dealer who accepts it in trade can get for it in the used car market.

3 YOUR used car has seemingly different values because competitive dealers are bidding to sell you a new car.

4 THE largest allowance is not necessarily the best deal for you. Sometimes it is; sometimes it is not.

5 AN excessive allowance may mean that you are paying an excessive price for the new car in comparison with its real value.

6 FIRST judge the merits of the new car in comparison with its price, including all delivery and finance charges. Then weigh any difference in allowance offered on your used car.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

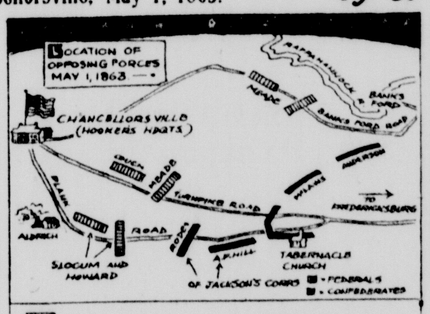
Registered U. S. Patent Office.

Fighting Near Chancellorsville, May 1, 1863.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

ALTHOUGH THE FLANKING MOVEMENT OF HOOKER'S FEDERAL ARMY ACROSS THE RAPPAHANNOCK WAS WELL EXECUTED AND CALCULATED TO TAKE THE CONFEDERATES OFF THEIR GUARD, LEE DIVINED HIS OPPONENT'S INTENTION AND, WHEN HIS SUSPICION HAD BEEN CONFIRMED, SENT ANDERSON'S AND McLAW'S DIVISIONS TO TABERNACLE CHURCH, HALFWAY BETWEEN FREDERICKSBURG AND CHANCELLORSVILLE, WHERE EARLY ON MAY 1, 1863, THEY WERE JOINED BY "STONEWALL" JACKSON'S CORPS.

THE SAME MORNING, HOOKER SENT THE 2ND, 5TH, 12TH AND 3RD UNION CORPS MARCHING TOWARD TABERNACLE CHURCH ON THE WAY TO FREDERICKSBURG. A FEW MILES FROM CHANCELLORSVILLE, THE FEDERALS ENCOUNTERED JACKSON'S FORCES AND A BRISK ENGAGEMENT BEGAN. HOOKER'S GENERALS AND TROOPS WERE EAGER FOR BATTLE, BUT THE COMMANDING GENERAL'S CONFIDENCE FORSOOK HIM AND HE ORDERED HIS FORCES TO RETIRE.



HOOKER WAS NOW AFRAID THAT, IF HE FOUGHT IN AN ADVANCED POSITION, THE CONFEDERATES COULD REACH HIS FLANK AND REAR BY WAY OF SPOTSYLVANIA COURT HOUSE, AND DECIDED TO FIGHT ON THE DEFENSIVE. OVER THE PROTESTS OF HIS OFFICERS, THE ARMY WAS WITHDRAWN TO TAKE UP A DEFENSIVE POSITION AT CHANCELLORSVILLE AND HOOKER'S GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY WAS LOST.

THAT NIGHT, LEE AND JACKSON, SEATED ON CRACKER BOXES BEFORE A SMALL FIRE IN THE FOREST NEAR CHANCELLORSVILLE, HELD A MEMORABLE COUNCIL OF WAR. THEY RESOLVED TO ATTACK HOOKER IN SPITE OF THEIR NUMERICAL INFERIORITY AND AGREED UPON A DARING PLAN OF ACTION.

AN ORDINANCE

for the protection of the public health; defining public or common nuisances; providing regulations for their control and abatement; for enforcement thereof, and penalties for violation.

ARTICLE I.
Definitions

Section 1. Be it ordained by the Council of South New Castle Boro, Lawrence County, Pennsylvania, and it is hereby ordained by authority of the same; that for the purposes of this ordinance a public or common nuisance shall be considered as that which is set up, maintained or continued, so as to be injurious to the health or an obstruction to the use of property by interfering with the repose, health, safety or life of any considerable number of persons.

Section 2. For the purposes of this ordinance the term "waters of the State" wherever used, shall include all streams and springs, and all bodies of surface and of ground water, whether natural or artificial, within the boundaries of the State.

ARTICLE II.
Sewage Disposal.

Section 1. No privy, cesspool or other receptacle for human excrement shall be constructed, maintained or used so that flies have or may have access to the excrementitious matter contained therein.

Section 2. No privy, urinal, cesspool or other receptacle for human excrement shall be constructed, maintained or used which directly or indirectly drains or discharges over or upon the surface of the ground, or into any waters of the State.

Section 3. All privies, urinals, cesspools or other receptacles for human excrement shall be cleansed at sufficiently frequent intervals to prevent the contents from overflowing.

Section 4. The transportation of human excrement shall be effected in water-tight containers with tight fitting covers. Containers shall be thoroughly cleaned after each use.

Section 5. No human excrement or material containing human excrement shall be placed on the surface of the ground or buried or otherwise disposed of within 100 feet of or where it is likely to gain access to any waters of the State, unless subjected to treatment by a method approved by the Board of Health.

Section 6. The contents of privies, cesspools or other receptacles for human excrement shall not be used on ground within the corporate limits of South New Castle Boro unless subjected to treatment by a method approved by the Board of Health, and in accordance with regulations of the State Department of Health.

Section 7. No privy, cesspool or similar receptacle for human excrement shall be constructed, maintained or used on premises where a sewer is at all accessible which is part of a sewer system on which sewage is lawfully discharged into the waters of the State.

Section 9. No kitchen or laundry water shall be discharged or be permitted to discharge or flow into any gutter, street, roadway or public place.

Section 10. When kitchen or laundry waste water is disposed of by throwing onto the surface of the ground, borax, unslaked lime, hypochlorite of lime or other approved disinfectant and deodorant shall be applied thereto in a sufficient quantity to prevent offensive odors and the breeding of flies.

ARTICLE IV.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 3. — Strong leadership was furnished the market at the beginning of trading today by General Motors, Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad and a number of high-priced specialty stocks. The public utility and the automobile accessory stocks continued their brilliant forward movement, and the rails as a group were active and strong.

Strength of General Motors was due to reports that the finance committee had recommended an extra dividend of $2 a share, in addition to the quarterly $2 dividend. Chesapeake & Ohio duplicated its former high record of 171½ on a 4-point jump in active trading. Brooklyn Union Gas and Timken were the features of the other groups.

The increase of less than $5,000,000 in brokers' loans was in line with Wall Street calculations, and a slight decrease will be shown when the results of the liquidation taking place in the latter part of last week are shown. Call money was in good supply at 4½ per cent, and no concern was felt over the money situation which will soon begin to reflect the decline in the volume of commercial borrowing. Business and industrial production reports were practically unchanged.

Trading narrowed down to a comparatively small number of the well known stocks in the second hour, with railroad and motor shares absorbing the bulk of speculative interest. The Chicago Great Western shares were heavily sold, the preferred declining about 3 points from the peak of the move.

The foreign exchanges were all strong.

Widow Is Again On Stand Facing Cross-Examiners

his glasses from his nose as he shot questions at her.

Resumes Cross-Examination

She took the stand at exactly 10 o'clock. She sat there quietly as Justice Townsend Scudder warned spectators to maintain decorum. The courtroom was packed, mostly with women.

Froessel then began his questioning.

"Madam", he said slowly, "it was the early part of this year that Gray talked about getting rid of Albert Snyder?"

"Yes", she answered in a low voice that had a nasal tinge to it as it grated through the radio amplifiers.

Q. Mr. Gray wrote you about his plans to kill your husband. A. He did.

Q. And talked to you over the telephone about them? A. Yes.

Q. And on March 5 he gave you a package which you found out later contained a sash weight? A. Yes.

Q. When you found the sash weight you knew Gray meant business, didn't you? A. Yes.

Q. And when he visited you at your home on March 7 he meant business, too, didn't he? A. Yes.

The answers come almost lackadaisically.

Q. Now madam, did you see Gray between Saturday, March 5, and Monday night, March 7? A. No.

Q. You met him on Monday afternoon, didn't you? A. I did not.

There was asperity in this quick reply.

Q. Did you have luncheon with him that afternoon? A. No.

Q. When did you see Gray that evening of March 7? A. Between 11 and 11:30.

Calm in Replies

Yes, her husband was at home—"asleep". No, her mother wasn't at home. She seemed quite calm, but deadly cold in her replies. At one point she turned to Justice Scudder and asked to be allowed to explain her answers fully. Froessel had demanded "yes" or "no" answers. She didn't like the cross-examiner's accusatory manner and she wanted the judge to know it—and perhaps the jury, too, which watched her as if fascinated.

The court gently admonished Froessel and then asked her to answer questions: "Yes" or "No".

Q. When Gray left you the night of March 7 you gave him back the sash weight? A. Yes.

Q. You knew he was going to kill your husband? A. Yes.

Q. That's why you gave him back the sash weight? A. Yes.

Q. You didn't tell the police, your brother or anyone else that Gray was going to kill your husband? A. No.

Q. You used to get a letter a day at the time Gray was planning to kill your husband? A. Yes.

She testified that Monday night, March 7, was the last she saw Gray before the night of the murder.

Q. And he told you by telephone and letter he was coming March 19 to "finish the governor?" A. Yes.

Q. You knew he'd do it? A. Yes, but—

Froessel shouted back: "No 'buts', madam."

Mrs. Snyder's face flushed and she was on the point of shouting back at Froessel when the judge interjected quietly.

"Mrs. Snyder, what did you mean when you testified you knew Gray would kill your husband?"

Explains Answer

"I meant," she replied, "that I thought he would and that I could keep him from it. I intended to use the word 'believe' instead of 'knew'."

The aggressive Froessel then asked:

Q. Gray told you, either by phone or letter, to put liquor upon the pillow. A. Yes.

Q. And you did so?

Yes, she said wearily, Gray telephoned on Thursday night before the murder from somewhere upstate. Yes, she had written to Gray about the one or more accidents that nearly cost her husband his life. Yes, she had written that her husband had kept a revolver under his pillow.

Q. On the night of March 19, the night of the murder, you went, with your husband and daughter to a house party given by the Fidgeons? A. Yes.

Q. You offered your drinks to your husband at the party? A. Yes.

When they returned, she said in reply to questions, she put her daughter to bed. She passed her mother's room and saw Gray. She told him: "Be quiet, I'll be back." She and her husband went to bed.

She waited until her husband was asleep and then got up and went into the room where Gray was.

Q. The first thing you did was to kiss Gray and he kissed you? A. Yes.

Her low, melodious voice broke a little.

"Knowing that he was going to kill your husband," relentlessly pursued Froessel.

"Yes."

"You felt rubber gloves he had on?"

"Yes."

"Did you shake his hand or what?"

"I don't remember."

Gray Becomes Alert

When Froessel mentioned the rubber gloves, Judd Gray, sat up and became alert for one of the few times during the trial. He shot a hasty, side-long glance at the blonde defendant.

Q. Had Gray taken off his rubber gloves? A. No.

Q. You were so confused that night you can't remember anything? A. No, I can't. (Plaintively).

No, she insisted, she wasn't deliberately "forgetting" things. Yes, she took a revolver from Gray when she got him downstairs.

"You didn't put the revolver where he couldn't find it, did you?" shouted Froessel.

"No, I didn't."

"You were more interested in your jewelry than your husband."

"No," screamed Mrs. Snyder.

She insisted her main idea at that time was to get Gray out of the house.

"Couldn't you have kept him out in the first place by locking the door?"

"Yes."

"But you didn't lock the door, did you?"

"No."

Yes, she answered, she went up stairs to the bathroom and left the revolver on the piano, about ten feet from the settee upon which Gray was sitting.

Q. Later the revolver was found upstairs. Who put it up there? A. Mr. Gray did.

Heard Thud

She was in the bathroom about ten minutes she said.

Q. And while in there you heard "the terrific thud?"

A. Yes.

Q.—At the time you heard the thud, Gray was in your husband's room? A.—Yes.

Q.—The bathroom door was closed? A.—I won't say whether it was open or closed.

Q.—Did you not testify "I came upstairs to the bathroom and while I was in the bathroom, I heard a terrific thud. I immediately opened up the door and rushed down the hall?"

A.—Yes, but I don't know whether the door was closed or just pushed to.

They battled over and over on whether the bathroom door was opened or closed. Finally, she said in exasperation:

"I don't know."

She warily admitted she "might have" testified the door was closed.

Q.—Under these circumstances you say you heard Gray hit your husband over the head? A.—Yes.

Q.—You grabbed him then? A.—Yes.

Fell In Faint

Q.—Then what? A.—He pushed me and I fell in a faint.

Q.—And you found blood on your garments later? A.—Yes.

Q.—And you gave them to Gray to burn? A.—Yes.

Q.—Gave them to the man you had tried to drag off your husband? A.—Yes.

Q.—Did you pull the covers off your husband all the way? A.—Just long enough—oh, I don't know what I want to say.

Her voice was tearful and it seemed as if she was about to cry. "Go on," thundered Froessel. "Tell me what you did."

"I tried to pull the covers off."

"Did you see the wire around his neck?"

"No."

"Did you see the waste in his nose?"

"I did not."

"Did you see the wounds on his head?"

She closed her eyes and said: "No."

Froessel asked if she saw the body at all and she replied that when she revived from her faint she tried to get the covers off, but couldn't.

Near Hysterical

"You saw the body with the blankets on top—isn't that right?"

"No," shrilled Mrs. Snyder, by now almost hysterical. She was showing the effects of the ordeal.

You never saw the wire around your husband's neck. A.—No.

Q.—Did you touch his head or his body? A.—No.

Q.—All you had seen or heard was the sound of the sash weight on you husband's head? A.—Yes.

Q.—When you came to, didn't you pull the covers off his head and see if you could help 'him? A.—No.

Q.—You knew what had happened to him? A.—No, I didn't.

Q.—But went to another room and went to another room and remained with Gray for a couple of hours. Didn't you know whether your husband was dead or alive? A.—No.

She insisted Gray left the bloody bedroom first, "Not quite a half-hour" after she entered it. Yes, she admitted, Gray burned his bloody shirt, her nightgown and her robe.

Q.—And then he came back to your mother's room? A.—Yes.

Q.—Did you take off your nightgown and bathrobe in his presence? A.—Yes.

She couldn't recall how long Gray was downstairs burning the garments. Yes, she went into her husband's room to get some other clothing. No, they did not go back together to her husband's room.

"I wasn't in the room when my husband was killed," she insisted.

When court adjourned at 12:35 this afternoon for the luncheon recess, she was still on the stand. She had been on the stand nearly eleven hours, eight of which were cross-examination. She was bombarded with questions for two hours and thirty-five minutes this morning by the belligerent Charles J. Froessel, assistant district attorney.

Finally, she said that the confession she originally gave to the police was not true in its entirety. The state went over the confession point by point just before adjournmen for luncheon and she told what she now says is the truth. Her new statements did not vary much from her direct testimony on the witness stand Friday.

No amount of legal cross-fire could break her version of what happened the night of the murder The agressive Froessel shot question after question at her and while at times her spunk and spirit seemed to be deserting her, indomitable will always came to her rescue and she pulled herself through.

Spectators, who had sat fascinated watching her, left the courtroom loudly expressing their admiration of her courage, even though many of them, particularly the droves of women spectators, scoffed at her story.

At the Township schools, "Uncle Si" made his appearance and talked with the kiddies, leaving with each, one of his "Unkle Si" puzzles to remember him by.

Tomorrow he will be seen at other points in the county and residents are all looking for him and his Skihymobile.

VICTIM OF ACCIDENT

John, the son of Harry Buxton, was a victim of a bad accident on Sunday. He was riding a horse up near the Stoop place when it is believed the horse must have thrown him. It seems that no one was an eye-witness of the accident. Mr. Stoop caught the horse and put the boy back on the horse. The horse took the boy home again, but the boy seems delirious and can't remember or tell anything about the accident. He must have fallen on his forehead, as he complains of his head hurting him.
